

REYNOLDS KILLED
BY UNKNOWN MAN, DECLARE JURYMEN

Details of Tuesday's Early Morning Duel in Ponce de Leon Place Home Brought Out at the Inquest.

NOTE AGAINST REYNOLDS
DUE AT BANK MONDAY

Judge Candler and E. V. Carter, Who Are Given as Indorsers, Declare Their Signatures Not Genuine.

At 4:15 o'clock Tuesday morning, just four hours before Judge John S. Candler and Col. E. V. Carter, both prominent members of the Atlanta bar, discovered that their indorsements appeared upon notes aggregating $12,000 and executed by Charles B. Reynolds, a fellow bar member, Mr. Reynolds died at his home, 12 Ponce de Leon place, as the result of a gun-shot wound, which a coroner's jury Tuesday afternoon found to have been "inflicted by an unknown person."

The testimony of members of the family and neighbors at the coroner's inquest showed briefly that at 4:15 o'clock Tuesday morning Mr. Reynolds, hearing sound in the house, got his revolver and went into the dark hall. The sounds of a scuffle and the reports of five revolver shots followed. When the light was turned on Mr. Reynolds lay upon the floor, dead, with a 38-calibre pistol ball in his body. In his hand was a 38-calibre revolver, containing four exploded 38-calibre cartridges. Nearby lay an old-fashioned 41-calibre pistol, containing one exploded 38-calibre cartridge. The 38-calibre shell, being too small for the bore of the 41-calibre, had split down its side when it exploded. Why this 38-calibre cartridge was used in the 41-calibre revolver is as much a mystery as is the identity of Mr. Reynolds' slayer.

Deny Signatures.
During the day it became known that two notes, aggregating $12,000, were held against Mr. Reynolds' indorsements, supporting to be those of Judge John S. Candler and E. V. Carter, both prominent lawyers of Atlanta and friends of the dead man. Both Judge Candler and Mr. Carter deny that these signatures are genuine.

Friends of the family of Mr. Reynolds stated that they believe that the fact of the disclosure of the existence of these notes and the fact of the death of Mr. Reynolds form merely a deplorable coincidence and that they are in no wise related.

Mr. Reynolds' funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Trinity church. The place of interment has not yet been announced.

Story of Killings.
At the coroner's inquest Tuesday afternoon the story of Mr. Reynolds' death was brought out by members of the family and friends as follows:
The Reynolds residence is a two-story house. Sleeping in the same room on the first floor were Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. Reynolds' son, Tom; his daughter, Maude; and Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Nicholson, who are his son-in-law and his daughter.

Shortly after 4 o'clock Tuesday morning Mr. Reynolds had been awakened by a noise in the hallway out of bed and, clad only in his pajamas, went into the hallway with his revolver. As he left the bedroom Mrs. Reynolds called to him to "be careful" and that "he might get shot."

Mr. Reynolds laughed.
Immediately there was the sound of a scuffle in the darkness of the hall. Four shots were fired in quick succession. After a period of about 30 seconds a fifth shot was fired.

By this time Mrs. Reynolds had rushed into the dark hall, and Mr. Nicholson, aroused by the shots, had reached the head of the stairs and turned on the lights.

Two Revolvers Found.
The light revealed Mr. Reynolds lying upon the floor of the hall near the door of his bedroom, dead. In his hand was gripped his own revolver, from which, investigation showed, four shots had been fired.

Nearby lay another revolver. One chamber contained an empty shell. Four shots were accounted for by bullet marks, one in the door facing a third about three feet away in the wall, a third in a side wall and the fourth through a picture upon the opposite side wall. These were said to have been fired by Mr. Reynolds during his struggle with burglar.

The fifth shot found its mark in Mr. Reynolds' heart. This is said to have been fired by the assassin.
Discovery of Notes.
Early Tuesday morning Judge Candler and Mr. Carter received notice from a national bank in Atlanta that a note bearing their indorsements and upon which Mr. Reynolds had borrowed $5,000, had fallen due on Monday and at the close of business Monday had not been paid. Both Judge Candler and Mr. Carter sent their respective sons to the bank immediately, returning the bank's notice and stating that there must be a mistake, since neither of them had indorsed such a note for Mr. Reynolds.

Notified of Notes.
At this time the news of Mr. Reynolds' death was not known to Judge Candler or Mr. Carter.
Later Judge Candler and Mr. Carter received notification of the existence of another note, executed by Mr.

ROTARIANS PLAN
SUNDAY "MOVIE"

Atlanta Should Do Something to Provide Attractive Amusements, Robert L. Foreman Tells Club.

The charge that Atlanta is too narrow in dealing with Sunday amusements, such as moving picture shows and other similar forms of entertainment, was made last night by Robert L. Foreman in advocating the great municipal Sunday moving picture show to be promoted by the Rotarian club in the Auditorium-Armory in conjunction with the pipe organ concerts.

"Atlanta has made the mistake of being too narrow-minded on the Sunday question," he declared. "We should do something to provide enjoyable and attractive amusements for the class of people who are unable to travel over the country in their automobiles on Sunday, or visit clubs.

By a unanimous vote of the Rotarians it was decided that the plan to operate a continuous performance in the Auditorium each Sunday beginning in January, should be referred to the board of directors with power to act. The Rotary club has been assured in advance of the co-operation of every film dealer in Atlanta who will supply without cost the best grade of picture attractions.

Will not Conflict.
It was likewise decided that the picture show would not conflict with the pipe organ recitals now being given each Sunday. The movie program will be offered until the schedule time of the recital, and will be resumed when the recital is finished. The project was conceived by the public affairs committee, and was submitted by Ivan M. Allen, vice chairman.

The working class of people have nowhere to go in the winter," Mr. Allen said in introducing the plan. "They have Grant and Piedmont parks in the summer, but they must either remain at home or loiter upon the streets during the cold season. The Auditorium picture show can be operated at a small

Burglar Swipes Djer Kiss
But Scorns Hudnut's Violet

A TIP TO THE POLICE:
If any of you gentlemen run about of a burglar, or burglars, as the case may be, all dolled out in a luxurious Oriental bath robe in whose wake is wafted the subtle odor of Djer Kiss toilet water, know you, trusty guardians of the law and order and good morals of the community, that this is the burglar or burglars who hurried the residence of Miss A. Eugene Aiken and Miss Elizabeth Aiken, of Kirkwood, while they were enjoying "The Legend of Leonora" at the Atlanta theater Monday night.

A discriminating burglar was this. But he left a trail so wide that his capture is imminent. Of that there can be no doubt! It was ever thus in the case of crime and criminals—some fatal oversight, some flaw in the plan, some miscalculation, causes their undoing!

Now the guilty wretch no doubt is quaking and shaking at the thought of his fatal aversion to Hudnut's Violet toilet water, which caused him to scorn it.

The Djer Kiss toilet water he took, but the Hudnut's Violet, which sat cheek by jowl with it, was left behind. Now, manifestly, there is something radically wrong with a person bent on burgling, who cannot abide the scent of Hudnut's Violet. So if the detectives are wise in their day and generation they will forthwith purchase a bottle of Hudnut's Violet and try it on each and every burglarous gent who falls into their clutches. The first unhappy wretch who shudders at the subtle scent will be the man, and inductive reasoning will have claimed another victim.

Certain articles of lingerie which make women truly glad they are not men were also taken. Likewise an exquisite Lily of France model in brocade was missing. A silver mesh bag costing $75 was not taken.

Also the piano was left. Miss Eugene Aiken thinks possibly a return trip will be made to correct this trifling oversight and when it is—But that's another story.

EDUCATION BOARD
PLANNING TO GAIN
BOND ISSUE VOTES

Every Section of Atlanta Will Be Cared For When the Money Is Secured for School Improvements.

SMITH STRESSES NEED OF WATER DEPARTMENT

Voters to Be Given Opportunity to Pass Judgment on Every Item in Issue, Says Armistead.

Related over the prompt manner in which the bond issue committee of council disposed of the preliminary details of its work, and based on the fact that every member of council favors the proposed issuance of $3,000,000 municipal bonds for schools, sewers, waterworks and other improvements, members of Atlanta's education board are preparing to formulate a plan of campaign to interest every voter in the election which will be held on March 3.

Mayor James G. Woodward questions the right of the retiring council to order the election for next year, but his friends on the bond issue committee insisted that the present council recommend the date for holding the election, and this difference of opinion will be easily adjusted and a plan for concerted action agreed on by all sides by the time council meets next Monday afternoon.

Candler's Opinion.
Alderman John S. Candler, chairman of the bond issue committee, declared Tuesday that as he was retiring from council at the end of the present year, he regarded it as the wisest thing for council to do would be to pass up the matter of naming the date of the election to the 1915 council.

"There has been such a unanimity of opinion among the members of the various committees as to the advisability of issuing bonds for improving the schools and other departments," said Candler, "that I don't regard it as likely that there will be any opposition offered to the proposed issue of $3,000,000 by any one connected with the city government."

"Our school system is in danger, and there is no evading that issue, and with $3,000,000 for new schools and for improving the old schools, there is no reason why the people should not be given an opportunity of passing on the question. If they want bonds, and I sincerely believe they do, let them decide the issue. If they don't want bonds, they will vote against them."

"The voters will have the opportunity of passing judgment on every item in the bond issue. The ballot will be so arranged that it will be possible for a voter to vote for the school bonds and reject the others, if he so desires, and he can vote for all the others and reject the school bonds, if he so desires, and he can vote for all the others and reject the school bonds, if he so desires."

Care for All Sections.
Members of the education board are formulating plans which will guide the voters on election day. The board is planning that every section of the city will be cared for out of the bond money voted for the school department.

General Manager W. Zode Smith, of the water department, says that the water works department is such that every voter in Atlanta should take an interest and advocate the bond issue as a means of enlarging the water supply of the city. The water supply is inadequate at the present time, for the reason that the department has not got the equipment necessary to keeping the reservoirs full all the time.

SUITS FILED TO ANNUL ARIZONA "DRY" LAW
Phoenix, Ariz., December 15.—Several suits to have the Arizona state prohibition law declared invalid were filed today in the federal court. The suits were asked to prevent the dry amendment going into effect January 1, under the provisions of the measure approved at the state election November 3.

An action was filed at Tucson in the name of the Rev. Thomas Connolly, pastor of the Holy Trinity Roman Catholic in that city, contending that the dry amendment would prohibit the use of wine in religious ceremonies.

ALLIES ARE DRIVING
AT GERMANS IN WEST
AND GAINING GROUNDTROOPS ARE RUSHED TO MEXICAN BORDER
BY UNITED STATES

Administration Is Determined to Use Force, if Necessary, to Stop Firing Across Boundary at Naco, Arizona.

3 INFANTRY REGIMENTS SENT TO GENERAL BLISS

And Also Three Batteries of Artillery—Mexicans to Be Shelled Out of Positions Unless They Cease Shooting Over Border.

Washington, December 15.—Further demonstration was made by the United States government today of its determination not to tolerate continued firing by the Mexican factions at Naco, Sonora, into American territory.

President Wilson, after a brief consultation with his cabinet, instructed Secretary Garrison to comply with the request of Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss, at Naco, Ariz., for reinforcements to handle a possible emergency situation. Three regiments of infantry and three batteries of artillery were ordered to Naco.

The general understanding tonight in administration quarters was that as soon as the additional American forces were in position on the line, the United States would return any artillery or infantry fire which might come from Mexican territory. As it will require three days for the troops to reach Naco, the Mexican factions have virtually that much time within which to comply with the American demands or be shelled out of their positions.

The reinforcements ordered today will bring the total force of the American army at Naco to eleven troops of cavalry, three regiments of infantry and six batteries of artillery with 24 guns.

Statement by Garrison.
The following statement was issued by Secretary Garrison late today:
"In view of conditions on the border, as he sees them, General Bliss has requested that additional infantry and artillery be sent him. In compliance with this request the following troops are being dispatched to and placed under his command. These reinforcements are being requested and sent as a measure of precaution. The troops to be sent are: One regiment of infantry from Galveston or Texas City, and one battery of 4.7 guns and two batteries of 4.7 howitzers from Fort Sill, Okla."

Firing by the Mexican factions has been interrupted for several days. The United States already has outlined that it intends to take "defensive" and not "aggressive" action and as soon as it has an adequate force in position, officials believe one or the other of the Mexican factions will withdraw.

SECRET EXECUTIONS IN MEXICAN CAPITAL.
Washington, December 15.—Between 100 and 150 Mexicans, many of them once prominent officials, have been secretly executed in Mexico City within the last few days, according to an official report which reached the United States government today from one of its agents there. Just who ordered the executions has not been disclosed, nor are the names of any of those put to death known.

Except for these executions, which are understood, according to the report, to be occurring daily, conditions in the city itself are quiet and Provisional President Gutierrez, with the allied Villa and Zapata forces, is maintaining order. No foreigners have been injured or intimidated and business conditions are described as improving.

CONGRESS WILL TAKE CHRISTMAS RECESS

Washington, December 15.—Holiday recess of congress from December 22 to December 29 was proposed today in a concurrent resolution passed by the house. It was communicated to the senate for action.
"We have decided to adjourn Wednesday," said Majority Leader Underwood, "because the rules committee expects to bring in on Tuesday, December 22, a special rule for a vote on the prohibition constitutional amendment. It is a large number of people desire a vote on that measure and it has been the policy of the democratic party never to suppress a vote on an important issue, where it is apparent that many people, even though they be in the minority, desire a vote."

Representative Underwood said that, although he was opposed to the constitutional amendment, he would vote for the rule in order to give an opportunity for a record vote on the question.

Offensive Movement of the British and the French Has Become General on Entire Front and Is Being Pushed With Strong Forces.

GERMANS HAVE FAILED IN WARSAW CAMPAIGN,
ACCORDING TO BERLIN

Officially Announced That Kaiser's Forces Have Had to Retreat Because of Superior Numbers of Russians—Austria Claims Minor Gains in the Carpathians, But Admits That Her Forces Have Been Defeated by the Serbians, Who Have Retaken Belgrade.

London, December 15.—The offensive movement of the French and British has become general and is being pushed with strong forces, particularly in Flanders, the Argonne, the Woivre and Alsace. While the French claim success at all points, except at Steinhaken, in Alsace, the German official report says the allies' attacks have been unsuccessful at several places.

On the whole, however, it would appear that the allies, who now have a superiority in numbers as well as in artillery, have made some progress and have withstood vigorous counter attacks delivered by the Germans.

ALLIES MAKING APPRECIABLE GAINS.

The fact that the allies are in possession of Holbeke, in Flanders, and that heavy fighting was going on again today, shows that they have made an appreciable advance during the past two days, as last week they were being checked by the invaders three miles west of St. Eloy, on the Ypres-Armstrong road.

In the Argonne region the French simply say: "We have made progress and maintained our advance of the preceding days."

The force which has been checked at Steinhaken is the left wing of the army which, for some time, has been fighting its way toward Muehlenhausen, and which has created a considerable part of Alsace of the Germans.

GERMANS ADMIT CHECK BY RUSSIANS.

The only news from the east tonight was the admission of the German general staff that the German column which advanced through Mlawa towards Warsaw, has recaptured its

BEHIND PEN WALLS CHRISTMAS SPIRIT MAKES SELF FELT

Detroit, Mich., December 15.—That the Christmas spirit of good will and charity penetrates even behind prison walls was made plain today in a letter received by the "Good Fellow Editor" of a local newspaper from a convict. The letter follows:

"I don't know whether I would be considered a good fellow or not. Society has decreed that I was a bad fellow and has segregated me for a period. In spite of the fact that I transgressed the law I am being clothed and fed and taken care of while hundreds of people, especially children, whose only crime is poverty, are suffering for the bare necessities of life and through no fault of theirs are facing the Christmas season with scant hope of happiness.

"I am sending $5 which I hope you will be able to use in some small measure bring gladness to some little ones. You need have no fear of this money being tainted, for it was honestly earned at the rate of 15 cents a day. I have two little girls of my own and while I am sending them their Christmas money, I am sure they will be glad that I shared with some others less fortunate.

"Yours in Christmas spirit,

VIEWS OF WILSON ON RACE QUESTION

President Discusses Problem Before the University Commission—Urges Help for Negro.

Washington, December 15.—Outlining his attitude toward the negro, President Wilson today told the university commission on southern race questions, made up of representatives of eleven southern colleges, that "our object is to know the needs of the negro and sympathetically help him in every way that is possible for his good and our good."

Dr. C. H. Brough, of the University of Arkansas, chairman of the commission, told the president the commission was organized to make an impartial study of the race question from the standpoint of the negro's economic, hygienic, civic and moral betterment. He said a deep investigation of the subject was being made with the good of the negro always in mind.

"I am very glad to express my sincere interest in this work and sympathy with it," said the president, in reply to Mr. Brough.

"I think that men like yourselves can be trusted to see this great question at every angle. There isn't any question, it seems to me, into which more candor needs to be put, or more thorough human good feeling, than this. I know myself, as a southern man, how sincerely the heart of the south desires the good of the negro and the advancement of his race on all sound and sensible lines, and everything that can be done in that direction is of the highest value. It is a matter of common understanding.

Story About Charles Lamb.
There is a charming story told about Charles Lamb. The conversation in his little circle turned upon some men who were not present, and Lamb, who you know, stuttered, and hate that fellow. His friend said, Charles, I didn't know you knew him. Lamb said, 'I don't; I—I can't hate a fellow I—I know.'

"I think that is a very profound human fact. You cannot hate a man you know. And our object is to know the needs of the negro and sympathetically help him in every way that is possible for his good and for our good. I can only bid you God speed in what is a very necessary and great undertaking."

The members of the conference included: C. H. Brough, Arkansas; Charles W. Bouslog, North Carolina; C. D. Scroggs, Louisiana; W. I. Kenna, Mississippi; J. M. Farr, Florida; Josiah Morse, South Carolina; James J. Doster, Alabama; W. S. Sutton, Texas; J. H. Delench, Georgia; James D. Hoskins, Tennessee; and W. M. Hunley, Virginia.

The commission has as its advisory council President Edwin A. Alderman, University of Virginia; Chancellor D. C. Barrow, University of Georgia; Dr. J. H. Dillard, of the University of Virginia, and President S. C. Mitchell, of Delaware.

President S. C. Mitchell, of Delaware college, told the opening session of the conference that the negro is a human being and that the solution of the race question must be the policy pursued on all race questions.

Dr. J. H. Dillard, of the University of Virginia, said he was satisfied there was a growing sentiment among the white and negro leaders in the south in favor of the education of the negro race.

Problems of Race in South.
In his annual report, Mr. Brough reviewed the problems of the race in the south. Under the Anna P. James Foundation, he reported 118 counties in twelve states last year improved their negro rural schools, while all the universities represented on the commission were offering courses on the race question. Dr. Brough referred to segregation as an mooted question which formed the only cloud on the horizon.

"Time, wisdom and patience will solve the question," he said, "and social solidarity is inexorable. Segregation in the departments of public service, railway and other public utilities in cities may be exceedingly just, but the idea of farm segregation as a means of giving the white man better chance in agricultural and industrial competition with the negro seems a travesty upon negro superiority and an injustice to the negro."

The constructive work before the commission he declared to be:

"The socializing and rationalizing of the impulses of an inferior race by imposing upon them the importance of preserving the racial integrity of both races, securing industrial education and attaining the goal of economic equality of opportunity."

Dr. Brough believed there was too much zeal among negroes for the external of education and a growing dislike for domestic service. He urged for higher standards among teachers and preachers of the negro race.

South and Race Solidarity.
The south feels that race integration and solidarity in a social sense are absolutely necessary to promote the best interests of both races. Dr. Brough declared in his report, "While willing to concede equality of opportunity in an economic sense, we unalterably opposed to miscegenation of the races and views with genuine alarm the member of the commission from Louisiana from 1,132,000, or 15.2 per cent, in 1890, to 2,050,856, or 20.3 per cent, in 1910, and the fundamental incompatibilities of racial temperament and tradition which operate to make the great mass of the population between the two groups unhappy and the fact that many of those who do enter upon these unions belong to the criminal or anti-social elements of both groups, would seem to indicate the condemnation of such unions by the better elements of both races as a substantial basis."

The south rejoices with the north that the negro has made commendable and rapid progress in economic, hygienic, educational, religious and civic lines within the semi-centennial of his freedom and that the problem of race adjustment is becoming less acute and easier of solution by the wise and conservative leadership of men of both races.

"That the negro has made rapid strides toward the goal of economic emancipation is conclusively proven by the latest census statistics. In 1883 there were 2,860,000 slaves in the south. At the present time 2,108,756 negroes are engaged in gainful occupations in the south alone and 5,122,535 negroes are engaged in gainful occupations throughout the United States as a whole."

ROTARIANS PLAN SUNDAY "MOVIES"

expense, and I am sure the city authorities will gladly contribute their share. They operate the Sunday band concerts during the summer in Grant park."

W. Percy, of the Atlanta board of moving picture censorship, made mild protest to the proposition on the argument that it would be construed to mean an opening wedge for a liberal Sunday. "I do not want the Rotarians to do anything that might disturb the present situation," he said, "for I am afraid that a move of this sort would re-open the old fight for Sunday moving pictures."

"Atlanta has raised the standard of moving pictures, and it should be kept elevated. Personally, I think the idea is a splendid one, but there is the grave possibility of it opening the old Sunday movie wound."

A strong talk in behalf of the Auditorium performances was made by Frederick J. Paxson, who deplored the lack of Sunday amusements. He moved that the idea be referred to the board of directors, and the motion was unanimously adopted at once. It was made known last night that the entire board is in accord with the project.

Gifts for Rotarians.
The Rotarian meeting last night was a brilliant affair. It was held in the Southside Rose Garden of the Hotel Wincoff. A Christmas tree had been erected, and from it burlesque gifts were taken for the Rotarians present.

Another important move made by the Rotarians was to adopt the "back-to-the-farm" plan, by which it is proposed to send back into the rural sections the unemployed farm worker who has found himself in dire straits in the city and wishes to return.

The public affairs committee has arranged to keep in communication with rural sources to ascertain sources of employment for ex-farm hands who had vainly sought their fortunes in the city. Advertisements will be run permanently in the newspapers and other means of restoring the down-and-out to the city to their former occupations in the country will be reported to.

NO CHRISTMAS MONEY FOR ALABAMA TEACHERS
Birmingham, Ala., December 15.—County school teachers in Alabama will be deprived of their Christmas money unless their checks are cashed by merchants or banks or held until after January 1. Due to the condition of the state treasury and the slowness with which taxes have been paid, the salary checks of the teachers for November, for the first time in sixteen years, went unpaid December 1, and the state has been unable to meet them so far.

Atlantans Urged to Attend Banquet to Commissioners

"All persons whose future business welfare depends upon the proper solution of the south's present agricultural problems—business men, professional men and farmers—should by all means attend the dinner Thursday evening at the Wincoff, at which commissioners of agriculture from eight southern states will give their expert views upon the situation," said Commissioner J. D. Price Tuesday.

This dinner, which is being arranged by President Charles J. Haden, of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, given under the direction of the chamber at the request of Commissioner Price, will be marked by the only public addresses of the commissioners while in Atlanta. The dinner will be a strictly Georgia products affair, to show the visitors what Georgia can offer in the way of delicious food. Reservations can be obtained at $1 a plate from Charles J. Haden.

From Texas to North Carolina the agricultural commissioners of the south are coming to Atlanta Thursday morning for their annual conference. Eight visiting commissioners are certain to attend the conference in Atlanta, including from Thursday morning until Friday afternoon or Saturday morning; ten will possibly be present; E. O. Burmer, commissioner of Louisiana, is the only member of the association who cannot come. Illness causes his absence.

W. A. Graham, commissioner of North Carolina; G. W. Koiner, of Virginia; H. E. Blakeslee, of Mississippi; Ed. R. Kones, of Texas; T. P. Peck, of Tennessee; J. W. Newman, of Kentucky; E. J. Watson, of South Carolina, and R. F. Cobb, of Alabama, have written they will be present. W. A. McRae, commissioner of Florida, will be delayed, but will reach Atlanta before the conference is over; J. H. Page, of Arkansas, writes that it is doubtful if he can attend.

Friday at noon, the weather permitting, the commissioners will go in body to Athens, where they will be guests of the Athens Chamber of Commerce and the Georgia College of Agriculture. After an inspection of the agricultural buildings and equipment Friday afternoon, a banquet at the Hotel Georgia is planned for them by the Athens Chamber of Commerce Friday night. The conference will end Saturday morning.

J. W. Newman, commissioner of Kentucky, writes that it is doubtful if he can attend.

ATTITUDE OF BRITAIN ON SEARCH OF SHIPS
Washington, December 15.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, advised the state department today that his government is willing to forego the exercise of the right of if the shipmasters would satisfy British consuls at ports of departure as to the neutral character of their cargoes.

Unless this is done, cargo ships will be subject to the ordinary rules of warfare and may be searched on the high seas or taken to the nearest British port for that purpose.

The ambassador and Secretary Bryan discussed the subject at length. There is no authority to require an American ship captain to apply to a foreign consul in this country for permission to take away cargo, but the state department has listened favorably to the suggestion that vexatious interference with commerce might be greatly reduced by the adoption of the arrangement.

After the ambassador's conference with Secretary Bryan, he was referred to Cecil Johnson, the state department solicitor, to discuss some of the details of the plan.

The department today received a note from the French government, saying France was prepared to give the same assurances as given by Great Britain regarding the non-contraband character of American cotton. Great Britain, through Sir Edward Grey, made the positive declaration that cotton was not contraband and cablegrams today from the American embassy in London said cotton would not be stopped on the high seas.

ADMINISTRATION WINS ON SHIP PURCHASE BILL

Washington, December 15.—Administration leaders won the first skirmish on the ship purchase bill today, when they blocked public hearings in the senate commerce committee. Democrats predicted the measure, which has President Wilson's backing, would be reported favorably to the senate before the holiday recess.

Everything Points to A Merry Christmas

Stop a moment just inside the entrance to the store.

Thinkingly watch the crowds—coming and going, scuttering through the many sections of the store.

What does it all mean?

It means

We Are Going to Have a Real Good Old-fashioned Christmas

The spirit will not be downed.

People will claim for themselves the happiness that comes of giving at Christmas time.

It is natural, instinctive—and beautiful.

Do not rob yourself of it, it won't pay.

"Happy Thoughts"

—In the neckwear section there are enough "happy thoughts" to fill a list name on name long, and every collar or tie or collar and cuff set you may choose will be boxed.

—On the right as you enter the store is mere man's gift section; here are his ties and sox in well-chosen variety—and inexpensive.

—The boudoir caps and camisoles in the muslin underwear are uncommonly pretty—lacy, flower-trimmed.

—Gift umbrellas at $2.50 and upwards—plain natural wood handles for men, silver, gold and jewel handles for women.

—Sweaters for women are so good looking this season that more of them are being bought for gifts than ever before.

—We prepared splendidly for those who would give waists this season—brought on greater variety in silks, chiffons, laces and lingerie—the latter forecasting spring styles.

—Chamberlain-Johnson-DuBose Co. has earned the name of the store of best kid gloves—it would be well to remember that when selecting gift gloves.

—Perhaps the richest display of comfortable Atlanta has ever seen has been arranged for the Christmas season—many show covers of brocade silk.

—Quadruple plate flower vases at $4.50. Look to be worth much more.

—The $1.00 silk hose for women are fullest value our searching has uncovered. All colors.

—A table of linen pieces—centers, scarfs and mats—have their prices reduced a third and a half because they are just a bit soiled.

—Where is the housekeeper who would not appreciate to the fullest a tablecloth or napkins?

—For a man—one of those heavy silver pencils at $1.00.

—Vanities, mesh bags, card cases, world without end.

—Sterling dornis at $4.50. Heaping value.

Select Christmas Handkerchiefs Where Varieties Are Greatest, Styles Prettiest, Prices for Same Qualities Lowest

—The new Sans Gene Combs set with brilliant for evening wear have won, it seems, all who have seen them—$2.50 to $3.00.

—Cameos of shell and coral are in high favor, so here they are in pendants and brooches at $3.50 and upwards.

—These soft, pleated leather bags, called the balloon shape, have the day. $2.50 to $15.00.

—Worlds of little favors and novelties for the Christmas table.

One of the Furniture Gift Season's Remarkable Values

A Woman's Desk $9.75

No, it is not solid mahogany, though to look at it even very, very carefully one might think it was.

Its price—$9.75—does not measure its full value—but it does measure what some extraordinarily shrewd buying has done. Drop lid, French legs, one long drawer, many compartments.

At $13.75 is the heavier Colonial Desk with scroll legs.

People looking about town at furniture have very pleasant words for the prices of things in the gift section.

And it is not a reduced-price sale, either!

New things bought well and all the advantages going to you!

"NORMAN"

Does your mirror say "Overwork?"

YOU know it does, but—the keener the brain the more unwilling it is to admit physical weakness. And yet you cannot escape the grim fact that overwork is undermining your system, weakening your nerves, upsetting digestion—driving you toward physical breakdown.

Now, there is a scientific food- tonic of which Arnold Bennett, the famous novelist, says that it has had a wonderful effect upon his nerves—of which Sir Gilbert Parker says that it feeds the nerves and gives fresh vigor to the overworked body and mind—of which Colonel Waterson says that without it he believes he could not have regained his vitality—from whose scores of other famous people have received new strength, a greater capacity for work, a new joy in life.

That food tonic is Sanatogen. Over 21,000 physicians have written in terms of praise of Sanatogen's reconstructive help—think what that means! And frankly, is it not about time you gave Sanatogen a trial?

FIGHT OVER PATRONAGE MAY STIR THE SENATE

Alleged President Wilson Is Facing Revolt in Regard to Nominations.

By John Corrigan Jr.
Washington, December 15.—(Special.)—President Wilson is now facing a formidable revolt on part of democratic senators against nominations to public office, recommended by members of his cabinet, in opposition to the wishes to these senators. The senate has determined to stand for its constitutional right to "advise and consent" to the nominations, and will henceforth oppose the president in every case where its approval has not been previously sought and obtained.

This revolt flared up yesterday in the unanimous rejection of the nomination of John R. Lynn, of New York, to be district attorney of the Rochester district. Nominations objectionable to Senator Martin, of New Jersey, and Senator Reed, of Missouri, will be turned down when they come to a vote. Republican senators will side with their democratic colleagues in this fight, and in return be allowed the customary privilege of selecting the postmasters of their home towns.

The revolt which flared up yesterday has recalled the historic contest between President Garfield and Senator Roscoe Conklin and Thomas C. Platt, of New York. It is expected to affect administration bills as well as nominations to office and may jeopardize united party action on the measures President Wilson recently asked to have passed.

Representatives are speculating on what effect this new declaration of independence of the constitutional rights of senators will have upon post-office nominations in their districts. In this connection Representative Frank Park today announced that Senator Hoke Smith had selected W. H. Bennett, as postmaster at Tifton, and that Senator Hardwick had chosen T. B. Perry as postmaster at Camilla. Senator Hardwick also approved Mr. Bennett. The two Georgia senators said they were willing to assume responsibility for the selections.

A. M. E. PASTORS NAMED. Ministers of Augusta Conference Assigned.

Sandersville, Ga., December 15.—(Special.)—The Augusta annual conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church closed its seventh and last session of 1,037 ministers and 160,000 members in the state of Georgia. Bishop Joseph Simeon Flipper, head of the denomination in the state, was assisted by Bishop Henry M. Turner, of the Diocese of Nova Scotia and Michigan. The conference was largely attended both night and day. The reports of presiding elders and pastors, notwithstanding cotton prices, showed great progress in church work among the negroes in the various communities from which they came. W. D. Johnson, W. A. Fountain, J. A. Hadley, F. G. Simmons, C. A. Wingfield, L. H. Smith, R. M. King and others were leading members of the race from different parts of the state and country. The Constitution was thanked by resolutions for daily reports.

Bishop Flipper's assignments follow:

OFFICE OF CHARITIES BESIEGED BY THE POOR

The offices of the Associated Charities and the city warden were besieged Tuesday by an army of hungry, ill-clad people driven, suffering, from the bitter cold, and all day long the children of the poor clamored on the thresholds and in the waiting rooms waiting for help. An succor, as far as the city warden's office was concerned, came forth meager indeed. The warden's office is already about $1,500 overdrawn, and he has only a $200 assistant, outside of volunteers, to help him in the work. The Associated Charities did all in its power to relieve the situation.

GEORGIA'S SHARE OF COTTON POOL READY NEXT WEEK

Georgia's share of the Wade cotton loan pool, which share amounts to $20,000,000, will be available for lending purposes beginning the first of next week, according to a telegram which Frank Hawkins, chairman of the state committee, received on Tuesday from Robert F. Maddox, who is in Washington conferring with the central committee.

COMPANY ASKS CHANGES IN STREET CAR SERVICE

The Georgia Railway & Power company has petitioned the state railroad commission for permission to make a number of changes in its street car service, as follows:
To change the schedule on the Piedmont-Central avenues line from ten minutes to twelve minutes for both the regular cars and the "stripper" service during rush hours.
To increase the service on the Howell Mill extension of the Marietta-Decatur streets line from a 10-minute schedule to a 10-minute schedule, with a corresponding decrease in service on Marietta and Decatur streets proper, where the traffic can be handled by cars of other lines.

To discontinue "stripper" service on the Irwin-McDaniel streets line.
To discontinue the Hayes station "stripper" service on the main Decatur line.
To substitute a transfer car between Decatur and the East Lake junction on the South Decatur line in lieu of the through Decatur service on that line after 7:15 o'clock at night.

Gentlemen:

We are very glad indeed to verify the claims you make for your agency respecting your services to your clients, for you have handled our newspaper advertising since our entry into the Southern fertilizer field, and we take pleasure in according to you the fullest measure of credit for the publicity we have secured on our fertilizers. Your advice from time to time regarding our mediums, rates and other matters pertaining to our advertising has been of incalculable service to us, and we shall be pleased at any time to have your prospective clients write us regarding the manner in which you have enabled us to find a satisfactory market for our products.

We have no hesitancy in saying that your services should enable any manufacturer to force dealers to handle his line by creating a persistent and insistent consumer demand for his product.

Yours Very truly,

SALES HELPS—No. 6

Perhaps the most significant feature of the above testimonial is the citation of the fact that our Service has compelled the dealers to handle Morris fertilizers, despite their unwillingness to pay higher prices than other dealers were charging. Such a statement is proof positive that our Service accomplishes the highest Service function—the forcing of sales. It is rather easy to secure the distribution of a commodity that has no competition. It is not so difficult to overcome competition, when the underselling argument is available. But it requires real Service to convince the dealer and the public that an offering is so much superior to competitive lines that they feel the expenditure of additional money to be an absolute necessity—the Morris Fertilizer Company entered the Southern field with a very high-class, and consequently higher-priced, fertilizer than is usually sold in the South. It devolved upon us to create a demand under those circumstances. The rapid increase of Morris Fertilizer Company's business is a practical tribute to the effectiveness of our efforts.

Let us send you our interesting "Year Book."

WARSHIPS WILL BE SENT TO PANAMA CANAL ZONE

United States Determined to Prevent Neutrality Violations by Vessels of Belligerents.

Washington, December 15.—President Wilson and his cabinet decided today to send American warships to the canal zone to guard against neutrality violations by belligerent ships. Just how many ships will be dispatched will be determined after a full report has been received from Governor Goethals of the canal zone, and Captain Rodman, naval officer at the canal. Both Secretary Garrison and Secretary Daniels made it clear today that the delay in acting on Colonel Goethals' request for destroyers was due to a lack of information. Mr. Garrison explained that the colonel had asked for destroyers without specifying the purpose of their use. In reply to a message of inquiry, Colonel Goethals explained that wireless regulations were being violated in canal waters, and referred to the misuse of the canal zone as a base of supplies. The war department again asked for specific instances of what had occurred, but tonight no further information had been received.

If the canal zone is being used as a base of supplies, Colonel Goethals will be instructed to use his land forces. Should it develop that the wireless is being used within the territorial waters, the navy department will demand an explanation from its naval officers, as the question of wireless regulations is up to the navy department. "Whatever is necessary to be done," said Secretary Daniels tonight, "to carry out the executive order of the president with reference to the radio communication, will be done. A telegram from the radio office at the canal zone says: 'For communication with British cruisers from the west coast, I have dismantled radio of one British collier in Balboa, canal zone.' 'Destroyers or other ships will be sent to the canal zone at any moment when needed to prevent the use of radio for any unauthorized act by ships of any belligerent nation.' 'The probability is that some of the cruisers now on the Mexican coast will be sent to the zone instead of destroyers.' At the British embassy it was suggested that the British colliers which are alleged to have been using their wireless within the territorial waters of the canal zone may not have received word of the canal regulations on this point, as these only reached London yesterday.

GLOVES ARE GIVEN MEN NOW WORKING FOR CITY

One hundred of the men at work at Tenth and Orme streets on sewer construction, many of whom are experiencing their first manual labor, and are being initiated into these new duties in the coldest weather, were presented Tuesday with thick, warm gloves which immediately put new heart into the men and added real zeal to their labors. The gloves were donated by the employees of J. M. High company. They were the guests of Captain P. H. Rice, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, while in the city.

VOLUNTEER ARMY FAVORED BY WOOD

College Camps Advocated, and Also Federal Control of Militia—Stimson Urges Training of Citizens to Arms.

New York, December 15.—Organization of a volunteer army through college camps, federal control of the militia, increase in the regular army, and provision for adequate armament are essentials for meeting the sudden attack of any hostile power on the United States, members of the Merchants' association of New York were told today by Major General Leonard Wood and Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war.

It is not a large army, but a fully efficient army that is needed, General Wood said, and in filling this need the college camps must play an important part in training volunteer officers, for it is on the volunteer army the country ultimately must depend. The plan of the general staff to bring the army forces up to 500,000 is only a stop-gap, he said, while the full citizen army is being organized. "You might as well try to organize a big reserve without previous preparation as to try to organize a life-saving service on a shipwrecked vessel that is going to pieces," said General Wood. "To bring our force up to 500,000 we shall have to have 12,000 additional officers. For this purpose we must have college camps, such as existed last year at Gettysburg and Monterey."

2,000 Boys in Four Camps. "This year we probably shall have 2,000 boys in four of these camps. The boys made a better record last year than was made by the best company of the Fifth regular infantry for the same ranges. They made over sixty per cent of marksmen. At the end of the five weeks' training period a board of our own officers examined these youngsters, and recommended 125 of them as fit for volunteer officers in the lower grades. Of 383 South Moreland avenue."

The bride was handsomely gowned in a blue dress with hat to match trimmed with white feathers. Dr. Barber, formerly of Harkinsville, Ga., has been connected with the Wesley Memorial hospital for the past year.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short trip. Upon their return they will be at home to friends at the residence of the bride's mother, 144 Cherokee avenue.

An equal number of young men have been invited.

Dancing Party. The dancing party to be given Monday night by Miss Louise Dobbs and Mr. Harry Dobbs will take place at the Vesper club, corner Peachtree and Third streets, instead of Segado's.

At the Tea-Dance. Miss Clara Wimberly will entertain at the tea-dance at the Driving club, this afternoon, her guests to be the group of young women with whom she was in Europe last summer: Misses Isoline Campbell, Louise Broyles, Isabel Robinson, Jennie Mobley, Josephine Mobley and Mrs. Orme Campbell, Mrs. Bulow Campbell, Messrs. Sanders, Hick, Sanders, Jones, John, Hardisty, F. M. McGeigal, Cator Woodford, Neal Reid, Ralph Ragan, Oley Mitchell, Dr. J. D. Osborne.

At the Dinner-Dance. Miss Isoline Campbell will entertain at the dinner-dance on Saturday night at the Driving club in compliment to Miss Louise Broyles and her guest, Miss Constance O'Keefe, of Tennessee, and to Miss Mary Brown.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL SHOTS HER AUNT TO DEATH

Memphis, Tenn., December 15.—Mrs. William Tripp was accidentally shot and killed by her 13-year-old niece near Ramsey, Tenn., late yesterday, according to reports received here today.

The girl had been chastised by her uncle, William Tripp, who used his wife as a shield when his niece threatened him with a shotgun, according to the report. The child fired before her aunt could release herself from Tripp's grasp.

At the Strand. The debutantes of Atlanta announce that they will be ushers at the Strand theater on Friday, and that they desire the patronage of their friends that day at the theater.

The Debutante club of 1911 have charge of the theater that day, and will get a large per cent of the proceeds for the fund they are raising for the children's room of the Home for incurables.

At the Grady Hospital. Mrs. Gordon Kiser is collecting funds, toys and fruits for the annual Christmas tree of the little ones in the children's ward of the Grady hospital. The tree will be presented the 15th of December at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Kiser asks that all contributions be sent to her at 40 Cone street, where she arranges for the tree each year.

Clarke-Barber. Miss Leake Clark and Dr. W. E. Barber were quietly married Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of the officiating minister, the Rev. R. Hendricks, of 383 South Moreland avenue.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a blue dress with hat to match trimmed with white feathers. Dr. Barber, formerly of Harkinsville, Ga., has been connected with the Wesley Memorial hospital for the past year.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short trip. Upon their return they will be at home to friends at the residence of the bride's mother, 144 Cherokee avenue.

Informal Dance. An informal dance will be given this evening by Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick in honor of Miss Margaret Gage, the guest of Miss Mary King, Miss Lila Carpenter, the guest of Miss Wickliff Wynn; Miss Susie Blackman, the guest of Miss Mary Murphy; Miss Ethel Scarbrough, the guest of Miss Emma Gordan Jones. An equal number of young men have been invited.

Dancing Party. The dancing party to be given Monday night by Miss Louise Dobbs and Mr. Harry Dobbs will take place at the Vesper club, corner Peachtree and Third streets, instead of Segado's.

At the Tea-Dance. Miss Clara Wimberly will entertain at the tea-dance at the Driving club, this afternoon, her guests to be the group of young women with whom she was in Europe last summer: Misses Isoline Campbell, Louise Broyles, Isabel Robinson, Jennie Mobley, Josephine Mobley and Mrs. Orme Campbell, Mrs. Bulow Campbell, Messrs. Sanders, Hick, Sanders, Jones, John, Hardisty, F. M. McGeigal, Cator Woodford, Neal Reid, Ralph Ragan, Oley Mitchell, Dr. J. D. Osborne.

To Debutantes. Mr. and Mrs. John E. Murphy will entertain at a tea-dance Friday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock at their home on Peachtree street, in honor of three of the season's debutantes, Miss Isoline Campbell, Miss Josephine Mobley and Miss Rosalie Davis.

At the Dinner-Dance. Miss Isoline Campbell will entertain at the dinner-dance on Saturday night at the Driving club in compliment to Miss Louise Broyles and her guest, Miss Constance O'Keefe, of Tennessee, and to Miss Mary Brown.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL SHOTS HER AUNT TO DEATH
Memphis, Tenn., December 15.—Mrs. William Tripp was accidentally shot and killed by her 13-year-old niece near Ramsey, Tenn., late yesterday, according to reports received here today.

The girl had been chastised by her uncle, William Tripp, who used his wife as a shield when his niece threatened him with a shotgun, according to the report. The child fired before her aunt could release herself from Tripp's grasp.

Eggnog Party.

Dr. and Mrs. W. McKee will give an informal eggnog party Christmas day from 11:30 to 1 o'clock.

New Year's Ball.

The New Year's ball to be given by the Nine O'Clock German club will be one of the most brilliant social events of the holidays, taking place at the Piedmont Driving club, on Thursday evening, the 31st. The guests will include a number of visiting belles.

Informal Bridge.

Miss Ida Winslip entertained twelve young women at bridge yesterday afternoon, the occasion a pretty and enjoyable one. Miss Adriance, of New York, who is visiting, Miss Rosalie Davis, was guest of honor.

The Christmas colors were carried out in picturesque detail of hospital-

Cadman Song Cycle.

At Hotel Ansley this evening at 8 o'clock Cadman's beautiful song cycle, "The Morning of the Year," will be rendered by the following well-known artists, who are giving their services for the benefit of the Church of the Holy Comforter: Miss Mayme Clyburn, Miss Sylvia Scott, Mr. James Wardwell and Mr. Harry Bates. Admission 25 cents.

Mrs. Breckenridge Speaks.

The address which will be delivered Wednesday night by Mrs. Desha Breckenridge, president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage party, will be of interest to both men and women. Mrs. Breckenridge, in the course of her address, will quote from the great men who have expressed themselves for and against it, and will meet the arguments of the latter. She is an able speaker, a brilliant woman, a leader in the various movements which have kept the progressive women of the country busy for many years.

Mrs. Breckenridge knows the status of women north, east, south and west, and she is prepared to prove in her lecture tomorrow night that in every section women as voters would bring better conditions in many directions. While in the city, Mrs. Breckenridge will be the guest of Mrs. Emily MacDougall, president of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage party.

Bridge at the Ansley.

An event for philanthropic purposes, but one with a social side, will be the bridge party at the Ansley Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when a group of Atlanta's society women will play a bridge for the benefit of the crippled children of Atlanta. The game will be played in the ball room, and there will be prizes awarded those making the highest score. An admission of 50 cents will be charged.

Dinner-Dance.

The informal dinner-dance at the Capital City club was a bright occasion of last evening, attended by two hundred guests. Miss Mariae Adriance, of New York, and Miss Rosalie Davis were the new guests in Mr. Brooks Morgan's party. Mr. Edward Tomlinson, of New York, was the guest of honor. Miss Mary Murphy, Miss Susie Blackman, of Columbus, Miss Nina Carpenter, of Greenville, S. C., Miss Wyckoff Wynn, Miss Margaret Sage, of Birmingham; Miss Mary King, Mr. Turner Carson, Mr. Henry Love, Dr. Hodge, Mr. Ben Daniels.

Mr. and Mrs. Belmont Davidson, their sister, Mrs. A. C. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Norris and Mr. and Mrs. Cone Madrox formed a congenial party.

Dancing Party.

Miss Louise Dobbs and Mr. Harry Dobbs will entertain Monday evening, December 21, at a dancing party at the Vesper club instead of Segado's, as first announced.

Concert at Hotel Ansley.

At Hotel Ansley, this evening at 8 o'clock, Cadman's beautiful song-cycle, "The Morning of the Year," will be given by these well-known artists: Miss Mayme Clyburn, soprano; Miss Sylvia Scott, contralto; Mr. C. Wardwell, tenor; Mr. Harry Bates, baritone; Miss Ethel Beyer, accompanist. The concert is for the benefit of the Church of the Holy Comforter. Admission 25 cents.

Parent-Teacher Club.

The Parent-Teacher Neighborhood club of Ira street will hold its last meeting for the year, Thursday, December 17, at 8 o'clock. Executive meeting. Dr. T. Toepel will speak on exercises, recreation and the child. All interested will find a hearty welcome.

For Miss Lipscomb.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Ellis, Jr., will entertain at the dinner-dance Saturday evening at the Driving club for Miss Virginia Lipscomb, who has returned from the Seville school in New York for the holidays.

For Miss Adriance.

Miss Ida Winslip entertained twelve guests at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on Peachtree street for Miss Rosalie Davis and her guest, Miss Adriance, of New York.

Washington Seminary.

Miss Anna Scott's party on Saturday afternoon in honor of the freshmen class of the Washington seminary was a merry occasion. More than sixty young girls filled the parlors, which were prettily decorated with pink roses and carnations.

Miss Margaret Mitchell was the fortunate winner of the first prize, a handsome memory book, won in a game which kept all the guests guessing. Delicious refreshments were served after the game.

The members of the faculty of the literary department assisted Miss Scott in the entertainment of the young girls. The young ladies of the Washington

Miss Sarabelle Bandy Weds Mr. Joseph Samuel Slicer

Montgomery, Ala., December 15.—(Special.)—A marriage of interest throughout the south, owing to the prominence and popularity of both bride and bridegroom, was that of Mr. Joseph Samuel Slicer, of Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Sarabelle Bandy, which was brilliantly solemnized at 7 o'clock this evening at St. John's Episcopal church. The sacred edifice was artistically decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and white roses. Mr. William Bauer presided at the organ, and before the ceremony Mrs. Howard Seay sang "I Love Thee," by Grieg. The bride party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, led by the ushers, Mr. Allen McNeil, Mr. E. G. Betty, Mr. Logan Martin and Mr. Robertson Allen, of Charleston, S. C.

Six Atlanta friends of Mr. Slicer, who acted as groomsmen, were Dr. Willis Ragan, Mr. Wimberly Peters, Mr. A. J. Ryan, Mr. Willard McBurney, Mr. Lynn Werner and Mr. Dan McDougald. A bevy of girl friends, Miss Lucy Pisk, Miss Mary Betty, Miss Kathryn Parrish, Miss Margaret Woolfolk, Miss Mildred Saffold and Carl Pinkston, acted as bridesmaids. They wore lovely gowns of pink satin, trimmed with gold lace and carried bouquets of pink roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Mildred Holloway, wore a gown of white lace and carried pink roses. Miss Marguerite Leonard, of Charleston, S. C., cousin of the bride and her maid of honor, wore a gown of pink, broadcloth and chiffon, trimmed with iridescent beads. She carried a bouquet of pink Killarney roses. The little flower girls, Adelaide and Mary Ross Flowers, wore dainty frocks of white tulle and lace, with pink ribbons, and carried baskets of pink roses. The bride entered with her brother, Mr. Harry Bandy, by whom she was given in marriage. She was beautiful in her wedding gown of white satin, fashioned with overskirt of white tulle, edged with pearls. The bodice was trimmed with princess lace and pearls, and a court train hung from her shoulders. Her veil was arranged cap-fashion and caught with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was an exquisite diamond pendant, the gift of the groom. Mr. Slicer was attended by his brother, Dr. Walter Slicer, of Rossmore, Va., as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward E. Cobbs. Immediately afterwards a reception was given at the home of the bride. At 2 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Slicer left for a wedding trip to New York. The bride wore a handsome traveling suit of brown chiffon, broadcloth trimmed with fur and a fancy feather. After January 1 Mr. and Mrs. Slicer will be at home to their friends at the Fraser apartments in Atlanta. The bride is a beautiful girl, and most aristocratic families in the state. Mr. Slicer is a member of the bar of Atlanta and has a host of friends.

Gaiety Planned for Xmas Time; Clubs Will Keep Open House

As usual, the Piedmont Driving club will keep open house after 12 o'clock Christmas day, and beginning at 5 o'clock there will be dancing until 11 o'clock. During these hours a delicious buffet supper will be served.

Decorations will be elaborate and appropriate, and everything done to make the day, as usual, a happy one. The town house of the Capital City club will, as usual, keep open house. The informal dance at the Capital City club was a bright occasion last night, and many reservations have been made for the tea-dance at the Driving club this afternoon.

Many informal parties are being formed to attend the Strand theatre Friday evening when the Debutante club of 1911 will be in charge of the theatre.

Cottillion Club. The brilliant social event being anticipated after Christmas is the annual entertainment of the Cottillion club, which takes place the evening of January 15th. The members will attend the performance of Raymond Hitchcock at the "Beauty Shop," and afterwards attend a supper and dance at the Capital City club. Mr. Edward Luman is president of the Cottillion club, and committees appointed to perfect the details of the brilliant entertainment have been appointed.

DISTINGUISHED PIANIST IN AFTERNOON RECITAL

Of brilliant musical interest will be the piano recital by Otto Pfeffercorn this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Georgian Terrace. Mr. Pfeffercorn, while he is at the hotel, will entertain a party of twelve for the piano department at Brenau. He is also a concert soloist of national reputation, and his appearance at the recital is a compliment to the view of the death of concerts from which Atlanta is suffering.

Concerning a concert of Mr. Pfeffercorn in Atlanta, The Constitution said in part: "Such dramatic contrasts, such sweep of tone and fire of phrase, cannot be wasted. They must arouse the most dormant powers of the soul, where voices in his playing. Tone, beauty and technical achievement of the highest order, poetic refinement, the most intellectual perception and an absolute freedom from mannerisms, are the gracious features of Mr. Pfeffercorn's art."

The concert is a compliment to the guests of the hotel, and they expect all their music loving friends to attend.

A number of students from Brenau will accompany Mr. Pfeffercorn and will remain at the Terrace until tomorrow.

Driving club. Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., will entertain a party of twelve for Miss Dorothy Arkwright, who has returned home, after spending several months in Washington, D. C. Miss Clara Wimberly will entertain for her niece, Miss Louise Wimberly.

The guests will be Misses Campbell, Josephine Mobley, Jennie Mobley, Isabel Robinson, Louise Broyles, Messrs. Saunders Jones, Sanders Hickey, Cator

seminary were complimented by a concert in their honor Saturday evening. The members of the Glee club, the Handin club and the orchestra of the Technological school gave a most interesting and varied program in the auditorium of the seminary. The honor guests thoroughly enjoyed the occasion and appreciated the compliment.

A spirited debate on the question, "Resolved, That labor unions are best for the interests of the community," took place Monday morning in the history room of the seminary. The affirmative was led by Miss Mae Crichton, assisted by Miss Marion Stearns and Miss Louise Cooper. Miss Helen Johnson was leader of the negative; Miss Sarah Clement and Miss Rachael Reicht were also for the negative.

Both sides had thoroughly investigated the question, bringing strong points to sustain their stand. The judges gave their decision in favor of the affirmative.

Miss Grant's House Party.

Miss Margaret Grant will have as her guests at a house party she entertains during the Christmas holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant, Miss Mary Orme, of New Orleans; Miss Dorothy Karow, of Savannah, and Messrs. Leroy Percy and Robert Redman, of Birmingham, and Richard Wilmer, Streeter, Flynn, of Washington, D. C., who will arrive December 27.

In their honor many entertainments will be given.

Informal Luncheon.

Mr. B. M. Reekin entertained sixteen guests at an informal luncheon yesterday at her home in Ansley Park.

Christmas Eve Party.

Miss Pauline Randall and Mr. Luther Randall will entertain at 8 o'clock Christmas Eve, the 24th.

Dance at Driving Club.

The weekly tea-dance will be a pleasant event of the afternoon at the Woolford, Edward Alfriend, Fred McGonigal, John Hardisty, Dr. J. J. Osborne, Ralph Ragan, Oley Mitchell and Neil Reid.

Mrs. McGehee's Luncheon.

Mrs. Charles C. McGehee entertained sixteen guests at a pretty luncheon yesterday at her home on Juniper street, in compliment to Miss Lyra Swift, the guest of Miss Patty McGeehee. Poinsettia blooms decorated the apartments and formed an artistic centerpiece for the luncheon table. The candle shades were in red and green and other details were in the same colors. The prizes at bridge and also for the guest of honor were novelties in French brocade.

Miss Swift wore a gown of lavender crepe and chiffon, and Mrs. McGehee wore king's blue velvet trimmed in fur.

DANCING.

Cabaret and ballroom dancing tonight (Wednesday) at the Auditorium at 8:15; free to the public. Warm, comfortable house.—(adv.)

Dainty Gifts for a Dainty Lady

Electricity, the Genie of the Wire, works many magic wonders in Atlanta homes these days. The turn of a switch, and he's there—the invisible, willing, competent Slave of the Spark.

He lights your home.

Is that all? Pity it is to leave him idle with so many tasks undone! There's need for naught but the wonder-tools he employs.

Electric Percolators make bubbling, faultless coffee right at your table in from six to ten minutes. They're attractive, spotless, smokeless, economical of heat.

Electric Chafing Dishes prepare hundreds of delicacies. They've no lamps to fill and fuss over. They couldn't explode. They're odorless, smokeless, ready at all hours.

Electric Toasters brown the crispest golden toast on the table beside you and serve it to you hot and fragrant, two slices or more per minute.

The Genie of the Wire does many other tasks at the dining table and about the house—in the bedroom, boudoir, kitchen, laundry, nursery.

Every light-socket in your home is an Aladdin's Lamp for you

Atlanta's holiday gives will find a wide variety of useful electrical gifts in the shops right now. Buy from us or other dealers—but insist on quality.

A CONSERVATIVE ISSUE.

The bond committee has acted wisely in the recommendations it has made to council covering a bond issue to meet obvious municipal deficiencies.The school system, as was just and natural, leads the list with an appropriation of $1,000,000. Every penny of this will be needed to effect the rehabilitation and stand-ardization, without which the educational plant of Atlanta will next September reach an impasse.

The health of the city at the sanitary end is ministered to by the appropriation of $750,000 for sewers and disposal plants. The waterworks is appropriated $650,000. This sum not only is urgently needed in that department, but it will as well prove an investment, since every foot of water pipes laid down, and every cent spent on the waterworks, returns revenue to the city. One of the most meritorious and urgent features of the recommendations is that which carries $225,000 for Grady hospital. As Colonel Robert J. Lowry says in a card published today, Grady, one of the most important of the city assets, is in need of help, a fact that was recognized by the people in the latest bond issue election. Had not the ill-fated provision requiring the approval of two-thirds of the voters registered, instead of voting, intervened, the people then would have sanctioned the rehabilitation of the hospital. The $150,000 allotted the fire department for new equipment and for motorizing old equipment will be money splendidly expended. The $100,000 that goes to the police department for sub-stations and equipment covers a need that has long been urgent, and that is even now visiting penalty on Atlanta.
The other items of the issue are similarly well placed.

No Atlantan who knows the desperate nature of the situation can quarrel with the size of the projected issue, nor with the provision that sets the election for March 3, 1915. That date will afford the friends of the issue ample time for a campaign of education, if, indeed, a campaign is needed to arouse the already alert people of the city. Fortunately, too, the date is set forward sufficiently to answer those who affect timidity over an unfavorable market.

The thing that matters most is that the first official step has been taken toward averting the most serious crisis that ever faced the schools of Atlanta.

TWO NEGLECTED STREETS.

The property-owners of Broad street,
from Marietta to Mitchell, and of Alabama street, from Forsyth to the end of the street at Central avenue, at the Georgia railroad freight terminals, are to be congratulated upon their movement to extend the white way lights to these streets—the only central thoroughfares without these lights.

Twenty years ago Alabama street was one of the most important thoroughfares of Atlanta. Banks, commission houses, wholesale groceries and other leading enterprises lined the street and swelled its traffic. Later, the development of other nearby streets has diminished its commercial importance.

The same can be said of Broad street.
It is ideally situated to become and remain one of the most important business arteries of the city. It has been well paved, and in this respect it is better off than Alabama street, whose paving is as bad as it is possible for any paved surface to be.

Other streets contiguous to these two have white lights. They have good pavements. They have been tended carefully.
Unless a similar policy is pursued with regard to Broad and Alabama, they will fail to reach the development to which their location entitles them. Indeed, there is danger that if present conditions continue property values will depreciate.

Confronted with these plain facts, The Constitution does not see how one property-owner can refuse to join the lighting movement, since in bettering the street he is also enhancing the value of his own holdings.

The best time to do this work, which must be done some time, is now! Material is cheap and men need work. The sooner the installation gets under way the better."

THE BURGLARY MENACE.

Burglaries, holdups and petty thievery multiply in Atlanta.

There may be, in fact, are, several contributing factors, one of the foremost of which undoubtedly is the numerical inadequacy of the police force.

It is well enough as a precautionary and auxiliary measure to warn citizens to bar their doors and windows at night.

But the vigilance of the citizen cannot be expected to wholly take the place of police protection.

We are not living in feudal days, when every house was an armed castle, made fast against attack.

There should be an immediate and an unsparing investigation to lay bare the exact causes of this undoubted crime wave to the end that it may be ended.

One of the primary reasons will be found in the traditional stinginess that has refused to give the police department sufficient men to patrol and defend the city.

The city must be swept clean of burglars, second-story men, thugs and sneak thieves.

If it is necessary to double the police force to accomplish these ends, then, double the force.

The saturnalia of burglary must be checked.

Whatever steps are necessary, word must go forth to the world of thugs and outlaws that Atlanta is the unhealthiest town in the world for them.

Epidemics of this nature, unchecked, become more daring.

FINDING CASH MARKETS.

The Georgia Chamber of Commerce has formulated a practical plan to solve a problem that has been threatening to complicate the progress of diversification, and that is the arrangement of cash markets for food crops.
In a letter published today, President Haden says if the growers of food crops will send detailed information, as per his instructions, to the chamber of commerce, the officials of the latter will use their best efforts to bring together producer and consumer.

The question of finding a cash market for surplus food crops seems to be a serious one with most of the farmers of Georgia. Some weeks ago Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, of Atlanta, owner and manager of a large plantation in Gordon county, set forth the obstacles encountered by the farmer when he undertook to transform his surplus products into cash. Her letter, published in The Constitution, has created state-wide comment. An interesting sidelight on it is that contained in the correspondence between Mrs. Black and W. S. Witham, whose letters are published elsewhere.

Adam Smith, the pioneer economist of modern times, defined commerce as transporting an excess of supplies from one section to another section in which a deficiency of the same supplies existed. That is the marrow of the finding of cash markets for Georgia food crops, with the added importance that the greater assurance the farmer has he will be able to exchange his food crops for cash, the less danger there is that there will be an overplanting of cotton and a consequent derangement of the calculations of the entire southern financial and business world next autumn.

In other words, the creation of cash markets for food products is the keystone to diversification, as diversification is the keystone to the holding down of the cotton acreage and the lessening of the perennial mortgage by which cotton is grown. The plans of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce promise much help in this direction. They depend, as do all plans thus far advanced, upon the co-operation of farmers, landlords and bankers. Inasmuch as it is to the financial interest of these various factors to co-operate, the prospects for the success of the plan are excellent.

EUROPE THE BATTLEGROUND.

People who try to preserve a judicial mind with regard to the world war should not attach too much importance to the victory of the British squadron off the Falkland Islands. The chief effect of the smashing of the German squadron is to give greater safety to British commerce, and also to hearken the allies. But the destruction of three or even five minor ships will have no perceptible effect upon the final issue of the war.

Europe is to be the battleground and the Armageddon of this strife. It is in France or Germany or Poland that the battle or battles that are decisive will be staged.
The sea and sea power will exert a tremendous influence, of course, on the ultimate outcome. It already is doing so in partially bottling up Germany and making it difficult for her to get supplies, despite official denials to the contrary. But the land fights will be the final arbiters.

It is even conceivable that the British navy could send the whole German navy to Davy Jones' locker, and Germany still be able to dictate terms because of victories on land—she wins them quickly enough and before her supplies are exhausted. It is well to waive prejudice and hair-trigger judgment, if one is to follow the confusing tangle of events with even moderate accuracy.

A Song to "Corn-Dodgers."
Being a reply to Hon.
Bridges Smith's tribute to "Pot Liqueur," and to certain lines thereon, as they appeared in The Constitution.

And the shades of Bob Toombs,
And the other old Codgers,
How they've lauded the "Liquor,"
And left out the "Dodgers!"

And I know, if their thinks
Will get busy a minute,
They'll be sure that "Pot Liqueur"
Had "Corn Dodgers" in it.

And, if "Liquor" makes brains
Why they know they'd be thicker,
If some "Dodgers" were floating Around in that "Liquor!"

If they own that the slight
To the "Liquor" is treason,
Why they leave out the "Dodgers"
I can't see the reason.

It's like leaving the oyster
Out of the stew—
Like forgetting the corn
For the "Mountain Dew!"

And our Smith and our Stanton
Must own it is wrong
When they leave "Dodgers" out Of a "Pot-Liqueur" Song.

Prophecy of the Result.

From an election affidavit filed by defeated candidate for congress, in Kentucky:
"The only promise I made of any living human being during the whole of my campaign was to my wife, whom I did promise that I would be with her at least as much or more after the election than I had prior thereto, and I did give her a little friendly advice, which was this: That we both pray earnestly to get to heaven, as there was absolutely no danger of our having to go to Washington."

"Keepin' Up the Fire."

"When a man is in a war, or win,
Don't you ever tire;
You're burnin' up the wood as in,
But keepin' up the fire!

World of yer heart's desire;
Though burnin' up the wood as in,
You're keepin' up the fire."

And it's time for a hands-round in Dixie.

Too Slow for Him.

A cheek like the roses, a smile like the sun,
Old Colonel Vigorous, who's still twenty-one.

He handles the dumb-bells and mounts the trapeze
In the little gymnasium with the greatest of ease.

But he's best at the fresh air, with stride and with swing
As he goes for a stroll with his red blood a-ringing.

To the tinkle of autumn—and would you
He is still twenty-one, not a splotch on his nose.

Nor a splotch in his heart, either; never a mark
That's stained with the evil or hides in the dark.

Old Colonel Vigorous, the friend of the air,
Who likes the sweet breezes to blow through his hair.

To fill up his lungs, and to shine in his eyes—
He's still twenty-one, in his dream of the Farmer Black and Farmer Witham Discuss Need of Farmer Market

The recent letter of Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, to The Constitution, in which she stressed the difficulty of the farmers finding cash markets for food products, has created considerable interest in breadth and interest. Mrs. Black spoke from experience, herself being an owner and manager of a large plantation in Gordon county.

W. S. Witham, the well-known banker who is also a farming authority, in a letter to Mrs. Black, which we reproduce, details suggestions of particular interest concerning the matter under discussion.

His letter follows:
"Atlanta, Ga., December 1, 1914.—My dear
Mrs. Black: In referring to your letter in The Constitution and to the editorial on the same, I, being manager of a small farm in Fulton county, will give you a few suggestions as requested in your letter.

"Of course, diversify your crops. The very first principle of a successful farmer is to raise all home supplies. One must be the oldest and best farmers in Georgia said to me:
'Any farmer who undertakes to raise cotton at even 15 cents, and tries to buy his home supplies is a "stall-fed" fool. The raising of all cotton and failure to diversify crops is chargeable to habit and not to common-sense.' I told him I raised all my supplies for man and beast on my little farm except salt, sugar, coffee, and for those I bartered potatoes, eggs and other farm products.

"Our letter, Mrs. Black, calls for a market. That question I have referred to the Georgia Chamber of Commerce and the state legislature. A market is not all the farmer needs, but judgment to decide upon the proper time to sell. There is no time to plant, a time to plant, a time to time to hold. The Good Book teaches all this.

"Alfalfa is now selling at $30 per ton, but if you have any, keep it and you will get first $1.00 next spring. I am offered 30 cents to $1.00 per bushel for cowpeas—I will keep mine and get $2.50 next June.
This is not the time to sell. There is no time to plant, a time to plant, a time to time to hold. The Good Book teaches all this.

Not Cotton.

"Witham banks" will lend money to plant oats, wheat, corn and hay, but for cotton not one cent. There is a time to plant and a time to sell.

"Why do you plant hay when you can plant alfalfa that requires no attention for ten years after the first expense, which is the seed and the preparation of the land at the same cost any other crop would require?
We cut out alfalfa four times per year and send one ton to three tons to the acre—each cutting. This is my experience in raising alfalfa and not something I read in a book. You must get the right kind of seed and you must prepare the land properly, and you must use poor and self-draining land.

"When dealers tell you they prefer western potatoes, they are right. Western hay, they are merely dicker with you for price.
A man in Cobb county reported to me that he had a lot of western hay and he sold it. The next day he received notice from half a dozen buyers. Buyers are plentiful, if we farmers will look them up.

"As to your hogs, you can sell them readily and get a good price. I sold mine on foot at my front gate and got very satisfactory prices.

"You say the country stores offer 14 cents for Jersey butter. I have a store and drive up to Chattanooga and any hotel there will give you double that amount and take all you can make. The same with eggs.
There are twenty-five places in Atlanta that will give you 35 cents per dozen the year around. You can make contracts on the foregoing products and get the cash.

"As potatoes, I can get a few at 75 cents to pay for the few articles not produced on my farm, and the rest of my potatoes are beholden to the farmer, when I will get $1 to $1.50 per bushel.

A Typical Incident.

"A friend of mine wrote me he had filtered oats of good, white corn that he could not sell. He sent me a sample, and I took it to a miller here, and he said: 'We will buy it for 10 cents a bushel, but you must free, but (now listen) write your that this corn will have to be held for thirty days as it is too new and in present condition unmarketable.'"

"The trouble with most of our farmers is that they are short about the eyes in disposing.

"Diversify your crops? Of course. Every new crop to undergo disadvantages until it becomes established, and certainly not in regard to diversified farming.

"If I had my life to go over again, I would marry the same girl, join the same church, subscribe to the same agricultural paper, but I would go into farming for a luxurious, independent, comfortable money-making business and to find an easy road to happiness here, and to heaven hereafter.

"Yours sincerely,
W. S. WITHAM."

Mrs. Black's Reply.

To this letter, Mrs. Black replies as follows:
"Atlanta, 511 Spring St., December 5, 1914.
Dear Mr. Witham: I feel very much flattered by your letter, and I am glad to hear that the time to write to your farmer friend, and if my article will set a good many people to talking, and that you will be coming be something doing. I wrote from my heart, with the hope that it would bring out suggestions, but you are so far away from the town you can hardly appreciate what a difference freight, express and mail rates make to the farmer.

"With my best wishes, NELLIE P. BLACK."

Farmers Invited to List Food Products
For Cash Market

Editor Constitution: We are constantly met with the complaint that there is no ready cash market for Georgia-raised food crops.
You could help us in our campaign to remedy this condition. All we agreed that the welfare of the people of the state demands the increase of these crops and the decrease of cotton next year.

If you please publish, editorially or otherwise, that we will assist those who have now for sale or who expect to grow next year, corn, wheat, oats, hay and other food crops, if they will send us a list of what they have, quality, quantity, shipping station, and all material facts that we would know, to place before the public. We will put this information in the hands of buyers and endeavor thereby to produce quick cash markets.

Our campaign in October to bring together the planters of middle and south Georgia with those who had seed grain to sell in north Georgia, was quite successful.
A great quantity was sold in this way to the benefit of both buyer and seller.

President Georgia Chamber of Commerce.

Money in the Bandbox.

(From The New York Times.)

In the cloakroom at the Vanderbilt on Wednesday night there was a commotion which sent Mike, the attendant, leaping over the counter in search of Thomas O'Malley, the superintendent of service. Mike's face was pale, and he gasped: "Please, Mr.
O'Malley, come quick; it's a leprochaun!"

A short time before a young woman had come into the hotel with a bandbox. This the attendant readily agreed to check. A little later, happening to glance at it, he saw it move.

As his hair went skyward the attendant beheld the box roll over, apparently from no cause. Plaintive little squeaks issued from what was supposed to contain a hat. Just then the box opened, and a tiny face, with that surrounding it, appeared, followed later by a figure which sprang out. Almost simultaneously the attendant vaulted the counter.

The monkey was caught before he got far, and the attendant, when he realized that it was not a spook that had sprung out of the bandbox, became calm, and had a good time petting the monkey—at a safe distance—until its owner had finished her dinner.

The Holland Letter

Cotton in many thousand bales is now on the way across the sea, and many thousand more will be transported from southern ports, principally to Germany, during the winter months. One peculiar feature of these cotton exports is the immediate payment in cash or its equivalent for the cotton as soon as it is delivered to the steamship companies. When, in January next, details of our exports in the year 1914 are made public, it will be discovered that heavy purchases of cotton, part of them for the account of Germany, began to be made about the time the leaves were falling.

A close scrutiny of these details will, however, furnish the first revelation of a certain depression in our export trade occasioned by the war in Europe. Some of the great manufacturing industries of the United States that have had a large foreign trade have received scarcely one order from any country across the sea or even in South America, since the war began. The foreign trade of these corporations ended early in August, and has not since been resumed.
Some of these industries are represented in the large centers of the principal countries throughout the world. Some have established manufacturing plants in other countries.
In normal times the exports of commodities made by these industries have furnished a large item in the total of our foreign trade.

Of course, they are industries whose commodities are not of avail in time of war. The products which come from their factories are valuable in times of peace when trade and industry are fairly normal throughout the world. The loss of this trade will offset to some extent the gain in trade represented by commodities that are of value in time of war. Exports of these products are now certain to be maintained and probably increased during the winter.

In the financial district it has been said, not with entire seriousness, that the bills recently introduced in congress, which, if they become laws, will place an absolute embargo upon the shipment of arms, ammunition, equipment and like material, will probably bring the war to a termination by the third of next March. This comment was not entirely humorous. It was made by those who know how greatly the belligerent nations, or at least two of them, depend upon the United States for war material.

Some intimations have recently come from England that by spring England may be ready to manufacture many of the articles which she is now purchasing in the United States.

No one believes, however, that a statutory embargo of this kind will be enacted. So far as is known, there have been no cases involving violation of international law or neutrality by those who manufacture and sell to other nations war facilitating commodities. They do this at their own risk.

A Cordial Neutrality.

Recent experiences in this city of some who are prominently connected, and in an official capacity, with the German government have shown how easy it is for perfect neutrality to be maintained while at the same time cordial, even delightful, social relations are established between citizens
of the United States and citizens of Germany.
Of high rank who are now here. The man ambassador is frequently in New York.
Some always a guest to whom conspicuous courtesies are paid in private houses. He is received as though he were a good friend and a charming companion, yet he is most thoroughly understood to be the prevailing American sentiment respecting the responsibility for the war in Europe. Nothing has ever occurred to disturb the perfect neutrality to be maintained while at the same time cordial, even delightful, social relations are established between citizens
of the United States and citizens of Germany.

On the night of the day of the arrival of our recent ambassador to France, Myron T.
Herrick, in New York, the German ambassador was the guest of honor at a large party given by the German community. The German ambassador was a guest to whom conspicuous courtesies are paid in private houses. He is received as though he were a good friend
and a charming companion, yet he is most thoroughly understood to be the prevailing American sentiment respecting the responsibility for the war in Europe. Nothing has ever occurred to disturb the perfect
neutrality to be maintained while at the same time cordial, even delightful, social relations are established between citizens
of the United States and citizens of Germany.

On the night of the day of the arrival of

WORST OF THE COLD SEEMS TO BE ENDED

Weather Man Predicts That It Will Gradually Moderate Today.

The sun will climb from behind its mound of silver fringed cloud this morning and shower Atlanta and territory with a wealth of comforting warmth after a day and two nights of record-smashing frigidness that decorated the entire city with icicles and made the steam radiator a most popular institution.

Police captain, who warned through the detective efforts of Atlanta's incomparable detective department, that the weather was exceeding cold, instructed the men on both the evening and morning watches to take good cognizance of the temperature, and to watch closely for fires.

Which they did. There wasn't a downtown steam radiator in any of the shops that failed to receive the "closest" attention. Strict observance was made of all other fires in the neighborhood. Other neighborhood fires were watched with equal efficiency.

The temperature dropped to the polar point of 11 degrees at daybreak Tuesday morning, but moderated shortly after noon. The remainder of the afternoon, until nightfall, was most pleasant—that is, if you had plenty of wraps and nerves that could stand the frost-injured winds that swept around the corners.

There will be a gradual moderation from now on. The weather for the remainder of the week is predicted to be fair and sunny.

Atlantans Are Praised For Aid They Have Given To Tuberculosis Society

George A. Simms, general manager of the Red Cross Christmas stamp campaign, declared yesterday that "Atlantans are better givers to a humanitarian cause than are the residents of any other city in the south." He said that the street sales, which will officially end Wednesday evening, had broken all previous records. All receipts go to the Anti-Tuberculosis society.

The million and a quarter stamps allotted to Atlanta have all been taken and the young women canvassers are now disposing of an additional 100,000 of the red seals. Returns from "Catholic Day," in charge of Mrs. C. E. Caverly, were exceptionally good, and those of Tuesday were large. The ladies in charge Tuesday were Mrs. W. O. Coleman and Mrs. Sterling Elder. Wednesday, the last day of the street sale, will be the "banner day," it is expected. The lady in charge will be Mrs. John Hill, and she will be aided in the work by Mrs. R. L. Conner, Mrs. S. R. Gumb, Mrs. U. S. Atkinson and Mrs. George Harrington. Mrs. A. Speer, Mrs. A. C. McLean, Mrs. Roy Collier, Mrs. Whiteford Russell, Mrs. Gresham, Mrs. Glenn, Mrs. S. D. Pickett, Mrs. J. G. Evans, Mrs. A. G. Smart, Mrs. Lee Aschcraft, Mrs. Edwin Dickson, Mrs. J. A. Ayer, Mrs. Will Meador, Mrs. Will Allen, Mrs. F. S. McConnell, Mrs. John Kisen, Mrs. Richard Courts, Mrs. J. H. Hirsch, Mrs. L. B. Marsh and Mrs. Ivan Allen.

Among the volunteer workers who will do the actual canvassing will be the Misses Louise Broyles, Helen McCullough, Frances Van Dyke, Eleanor Raoul, Margaret Fraser, Grace Elvay, Mary Peabody, Lillian Cole, J. C. Perdue, Alice Muse, Louise Elvay, Elizabeth Glenn, Marion Goldsmith, Mary O'Brien, Laura O'Brien, Morgan, Alice Mae Freeman, Jennie Hines, Emily Watt, Katherine Giddings, Elizabeth Spaulding, Ethel Cole, Josephine Mobley, Ruth Hull, Eloise Gay, Charlotte Hemmer and Emma Louie Freeman.

The boys are going to help, too. Aiding the committee of young women will be Tommie Perdue, Willie Muse, Clyde Glenn and Tyler Daniel.

MRS. BARNHARDT AGREES TO RETURN TO MARYLAND

Governor John M. Slaton on Tuesday afternoon honored the request of Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland, for Mrs. Anna V. Barnhardt, of Atlanta, wanted in Baltimore on a charge of kidnapping her little 7-year-old granddaughter, Leona Rust, from the little girl's aunt, Mrs. Mary H. Hilditch, of Baltimore.

Upon advice of her attorney, E. B. Pomeroy, Mrs. Barnhardt agreed not to fight the requisition and voluntarily to accompany Detective George W. Armstrong, of Baltimore, to the Maryland city, taking the little girl with her.

The requisition had no authority over the child, and in view of Mrs. Barnhardt's willingness to take the child with her, Governor Slaton asked that Detective Armstrong request the Maryland authorities to be as lenient as possible and withdraw the charge of abduction against Mrs. Barnhardt if possible.

OFFICERS TO BE NAMED BY PYTHAGORAS LODGE

The regular annual communication of Pythagoras lodge, No. 1, Free and Accepted Masons, will be held at Decatur, Thursday night, when officers will be elected for the ensuing year. Jones, senior steward; A. R. Almon, junior steward; G. Scott Candor, secretary; J. O. Norris, treasurer; M. F. Mable, Tyler.

DECLINES ELECTION

DR. CHARLES W. DANIEL, pastor of First Baptist church.

DR. DANIEL TO REMAIN AT THE FIRST BAPTIST

Prominent Minister Declines Place as Secretary of the Board of Missions.

Dr. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Atlanta, has declined the office of corresponding secretary and treasurer, recently tendered him by action of the board of missions of the Georgia Baptist convention.

Dr. Daniel explained in his declaration that the duties as pastor of the First church prevent him from accepting the office of the mission board. His letter follows:

Dr. L. E. Barton, President of the Board of Missions of the Georgia Baptist Convention, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Dr. Barton: The recent action of the board of missions in electing to the office of corresponding secretary and treasurer has had my grateful consideration. I am deeply sensible of the splendid opportunities for service which such a position offers and am more than grateful for the expression of confidence in me which such an appointment carries.

The conviction has fastened upon me that my present duty calls me to continue in the pastorate, and thus it becomes necessary for me to decline the call to official service with the board.

With regards, I am sincerely yours, CHARLES W. DANIEL.

Story of the Civil War Told in Song and Verse At Concert Last Night

The concert last night at the Auditorium by the Blue and Gray company was a story in song and verse of the civil war days, in which the spirit of by-gone times and events was pictured with a sentiment and a tenderness that touched and won the audience.

First the company showed a time before the war; then, the war itself, and, finally, the period fifty years after the conflict. Eight singers made up the cast, four men and four women, and each showed unusual skill.

Among the songs they sang were several in which verse written by Mrs. George E. Pickett, wife of the southern general who led the charge at Gettysburg, had been set to music.

The supreme court criticized other statements of Judge Hill in his charge as untrue.

The opinion was written by Judge Lumpkin, the entire court concurring, with the exception of Justice Fish, who is ill.

ONLY 410 MORE MEN NEEDED IN THE NAVY

If you are one of those Georgia youths who are anxious to get into the United States navy, you will have to hurry. The Atlanta recruiting station has received word from Washington that only 410 more men are needed in the navy to total the 55,000 men enlisted by the government, and that when these are secured, the recruiting stations over the country will take a rest.

FIFTH WARD CLUB WILL MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

Members of the Fifth Ward Improvement club are looking forward to Thursday night's meeting as one of the most important the club has called since its organization. The topic for discussion Thursday night will be the gas situation in Atlanta. The various committees will make reports of their work before the council committees during the week.

MANY SHOTS FIRED AT FLEEING BURGLAR

Intruder Is Discovered Breaking into the Residence of R. C. Sloan.

Burglars broke into the blacksmith shop of Yancy Bros. & McCullay, at No. 122 Walton street, through a back window, early Tuesday morning, and robbed the safe of $21.55. Evidently they knew the combination of the safe, as no outward marks of damage were found. The inside drawers of the safe were broken open with a chisel.

They made their escape before the arrival of the police.

R. C. Sloan, of No. 126 Clifton street; his son-in-law, J. J. Roberts, and L. J. Turner, who live next door, routed a burglar in the act of breaking into the Sloan residence. Each one of the trio, armed with a pistol, shot at the fleeing burglar, emptying the chambers of their pistols. It is not known that the burglar was hit.

ATLANTA FIRM WINS PRIZE FOR THE BEST DECORATED WINDOW

Another evidence that Atlanta retailers rank among the most up-to-date and progressive in the United States has just come in a dispatch from Chicago:

"Domestic Engineering," a weekly publication, devoted to the interests of the plumbing, heating and ventilation business, recently offered liberal cash prizes for photographs showing the most attractively decorated windows in stores devoted to that class of business, and an Atlanta firm, Jennings-Gresham company, won the first prize.

The judges were experts selected for their general and specific knowledge of the business and decided that the photograph of Jennings-Gresham company's window, at 242 Peachtree street, showed the most artistic arrangement, as well as the greatest attention-compelling power.

The contest was inaugurated by "Domestic Engineering" to arouse business men to the fact of the enormous importance of attractive, original window displays, and to educate plumbers to the knowledge that a well decorated window is the golden road and bait that tempts the ever interested public.

HILL IS UNDER ARREST ON CHARGE OF FORGERY

Charles O. Hill, formerly a professor in an Atlanta business college and well known here, was arrested in Titusville, Fla., Tuesday at the instance of the local Pinkerton detectives, charged with forgery. An officer left last night with requisition papers and is expected to return with the prisoner immediately.

A check of $300 drawn on a local bank was sent through the mail to Charles O. Hill, of Knoxville, Tenn. In some way it fell into the hands of Professor Charles O. Hill here. He is said to have indorsed it without in any way attempting to imitate the form of the signature on the face of the check, and received the money.

Hill is said to have expressed complete willingness to resign immediately to Atlanta. His only comment was: "I am not guilty of forgery. He is regarded as a man of exceptional capabilities and highly educated. He is also expert in the fact, he has perfected a system of his own which gained him considerable recognition."

PHI DELTA THETA FRAT TO HOLD TWO MEETINGS

Fred Houser, secretary of the Atlanta Convention bureau, announces for this week two important meetings of the local organizations of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The Alumni association of the Phi Delta Theta, which will have a special luncheon in the Georgia Pine room at the Ansley hotel, Friday, 12:30. At this meeting plans will be made for a strong representation at the biennial convention, which will be held this year at Birmingham, Ala., from December 28th to January 2d, inclusive.

The chapter of Phi Delta Theta fraternity will have their Christmas smoker, Saturday night, at the chapter house, 47 West Peachtree street. Arrangements will also be made then for attendance at the convention at Birmingham.

R. H. Maupin, who has charge of the function, has planned for a big initiation, big speeches and big smoker for the small ticket fee of one dollar.

DR. J. WILBUR CHAPMAN MAY PREACH HERE

The Evangelical Ministers' association are making special efforts to secure Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, of Jamaica, N. Y., undoubtedly the most famous evangelist in the world, to be present at the Atlanta Bible conference from the 15th of February to the middle of March and deliver a series of sermons.

Dr. Chapman was formerly pastor of Wanamaker's Great Bethany Presbyterian church, of Philadelphia. He has made several noted world tours during which he commanded the greatest audiences in Europe of any living evangelists.

The exact details of the Bible conference have not been arranged yet, but it is possible a temporary tabernacle will have to be erected to accommodate the large audiences expected to attend.

VICTOR E. INNES SEEKS FREEDOM FROM JAIL

In a desperate effort to obtain freedom and to escape being brought to Atlanta for trial, Victor E. Innes and his wife, acquitted in San Antonio of the charge of murdering Beatrice and Elois Nelms, yesterday filed habeas corpus proceedings in the Texas courts.

The hearing was set for December 22. While they are fighting in the United States courts, the extradition proceedings that are designed to bring them to Atlanta, the Inneses have been heard in jail in San Antonio. They are now seeking to gain liberty, by which they hope to frustrate the extradition efforts of Marshall Nelms, the brother, who is still in Texas, awaiting the decision of the United States courts.

FEDERAL PRISON PROBE WELCOMED BY MOYER

Referring to the proposed investigation by the federal authorities of his management of the federal prison which may result from an attempt on the part of Senator Smith and Congressmen Howard to re-instate certain officials discharged a year ago, Warden Moyer last night stated that he welcomed inspection. He stated that he had nothing to fear and nothing to conceal.

In December, 1913, Guards McClure, Rosson, Cobb, Dean, Evans and Grimes and Timekeeper Baugh were dismissed from their positions. They were charged with insubordination and disloyalty to the warden. The government charged that the men were virtually disarmed by the warden because of political differences.

Mrs. Leslie Quits Schools Following Divorce Charges Made in Husband's Answer

Mrs. Ethel M. Leslie, chief clerk in the office of School Superintendent W. M. Slaton, Tuesday tendered her resignation to Commissioner A. P. Morgan, who is vice president and head of the school department since the resignation of President George M. Hope.

In relinquishing her place, which pays $1,800 a year, Mrs. Leslie characterizes the attack made on her by her husband in his answer to her divorce petition, as "false and humiliating."

Leslie's charges were published Sunday morning. They alleged that Mrs. Leslie had a craving for fine clothing and a gay life, and she disappeared from Atlanta for three days and that he knew nothing of her whereabouts. Leslie also charged that his wife's conduct during Shrine week was unbecomingly.

Members of the education board took cognizance of the published charges against Mrs. Leslie by her husband, but took no other action than to commend Major Woodward and Superintendent Slaton. The mayor declared that the board had taken no action for the reason that it did not want to do anything to prejudice Mrs. Leslie's suit against her husband.

Governor McCord Pleased With Lower Discount Rate

Joseph A. McCord, governor of the Atlanta reserve bank, reviewed on his return from Washington Tuesday some of the results of the meeting of the board of governors of the various reserve banks.

The reduction of the discount rate was approved by the board. A rate of 5 per cent will be allowed on thirty-day maturities, 5 1/2 per cent on sixty-day maturities and 6 per cent on maturities of longer duration.

The Atlanta bank wanted the lower discount rate because there is between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000 of emergency currency, secured by the reserve banks, which can better be used to secure reserve notes.

Blank statements have been prepared by the Atlanta bank, and will be distributed among the firms and corporations of this territory in order to obtain their January banking conditions.

CHANGES IN POSTOFFICE TO HANDLE XMAS MAIL

Atlanta Has Best Equipped Office in Country, Says Postmaster Jones.

The Christmas increase of mail finds the Atlanta postoffice ready to meet the situation. A force of 150 men are busy distributing the outgoing mail in "direct tracks" that cover eleven states. To office has been furnished with many innovations that relieve the cramped condition due to old and out-of-date equipment. Three thousand sets of mail boxes have been installed. Space has also been conserved for all pouches instead of the old circular ones. The parcel post matter, by the new arrangement, is carried to the basement by means of a chute.

In discussing his new arrangements and equipment, Postmaster Bolling H. Jones stated that without a doubt he now has the best equipped office in the United States.

NEW MASONIC LODGE PLANNED FOR DECATUR

Another Masonic lodge will be added to DeKalb's strong representation Wednesday night, when Kirkwood lodge, No. 1, will be installed by its officers installed by George M. Napier, past grand master of the grand lodge of Georgia.

The lodge will meet in the Kirkwood chapter house, Wednesday evening and proceed to the First Methodist church, where the officers will be installed. The lodge was granted a charter at the last session of the grand lodge. Hal Reiver is master of the lodge.

APPOINTMENTS MADE BY GOVERNOR SLATON

The governor has made the following appointments:

R. C. Neely, of Waynesboro, and J. Andrews, of Cambridge, appointed as directors of the experiment station, at Experiment, Ga.

J. D. Huber, appointed as judge of the city court of Wrightsville, to succeed Judge J. L. Kent, who becomes judge of Johnson superior court, January 1.

W. Edward Platt, of Augusta, appointed as member of the state board of embalmers.

MAN 30 YEARS OLD PAROLED BY GOVERNOR

Governor John M. Slaton, upon petition of relatives and recommendations of the prison board, has paroled a 30-year-old and nearly blind, who has served four years of a term for manslaughter.

KIDNEY OR BLADDER WEAK?

Just Mix Juniper and Buchu, Old Folks' Recipe.

The symptoms of diseased kidneys and bladder: Scalding, dribbling, straining or too frequent passage of urine; forced or back-of-the-head aches; stitches and pains in the back; growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and despondency, Diabetes, Bright's Disease. The moment you have any of the above symptoms or a dull headache and rheumatic twinges get from any reliable druggist a 17-ounce bottle of Stuart's Buchu and Juniper. Take a tablespoonful after meals. Drink plenty of pure, fresh water and abstain from eating sugar, sweets or highly seasoned foods. Your kidneys and bladder will then act fine and natural. Stuart's Buchu and Juniper has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer hurts you to pass water, and is old folks' recipe for weak kidneys.—(adv.)

Mrs. Leslie Quits Schools Following Divorce Charges Made in Husband's Answer

The resignation of Mrs. Leslie is as follows:

Mr. A. P. Morgan, Vice President, Board of Education, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir: In view of the published false and most humiliating accusations against me, unfortunately made public through a local daily paper of recent issue, I realize the possible embarrassment to this board and to the public school department by my continuing in the service of the board until such time as these charges can be refuted.

No matter to what extent I may be inconvenienced, I am unwilling to be the occasion of any embarrassment whatever to the department to which I have endeavored to give loyal and efficient service.

I, therefore, desire to and do herewith tender my resignation as chief clerk in the office of the board of education, to be effective at the pleasure of the board.

Respectfully,
MRS. E. M. LESLIE

Mrs. Leslie has been connected with the office of Superintendent Slaton for a number of years, and she was regarded as highly efficient, and was a thorough student of the administrative affairs of the department. Her work in the office was commended several times by members of the board, and she was held in esteem by many teachers.

HERMAN AGAIN O. K., SAYS DOCTOR

Southern Bantam Champion Ready for His Bout With Pappas Thursday Night at the Bijou.

Kid Herman and Jimmy Pappas will meet in their scheduled 10-round bout Thursday night at the Bijou theater, and Herman, forced by a slight illness to delay the meeting from Tuesday night, will be in top form and great condition.

This is the official decision of the Atlanta physician who has charge of the case. "The boy had what looked as if it might develop into a bad throat," said the physician. "And I advised against allowing him to box Tuesday night, although I believe now he might have done so and acquitted himself with full credit. But the promoter wanted to be on the safe side, and so I promised that Herman should be in prime condition by Thursday night. That is perfectly correct. He could box to-night and be at himself in every way. By tomorrow night he will be in as good shape as at his finest when the rings tomorrow night."

"It's too bad the show had to be postponed," said Mike Saul, the promoter. "but I wasn't willing to take the least chance of not having both boys on edge. I am absolutely sure they will be in shape now. The fight is taking light workouts, just enough to keep him in top-notch shape, and he will be at his finest when the rings tomorrow night."

Herman also had some regrets. "I wanted to go on Tuesday night, anyway," said the southern bantam champion yesterday. "But the rest wouldn't let me. Well, the rest will do me good, anyhow, and I feel as strong as a bull right now."

The other bouts on the card, of course, will come off as scheduled. Kid Brown is ready to tackle Young Nelson in the four-round opener, and Battling Sheppard will cross leather with Kid Williams in the second bout. The semi-windup will be an 8-round bout between Young Seymour and Kid Bailey, welterweights, which will be the only match on the program not between little fellows.

The reserved seats continued to sell steadily after the announcement that the match had been postponed. They will remain on sale until 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Rex, Tumlin Brothers, and Charles and Sons' place. The prices range from 50 cents to $2.

SOUTH CAROLINA TO DROP N. C. AND TECH

Columbia, S. C., December 15.—C. Guy Gunter, manager of athletics at the University of South Carolina, has announced that North Carolina and Georgia Tech have been dropped from South Carolina's football schedule of 1915. One institution will replace each of the two dropped. It has not been announced, it is believed here that the University of Georgia is to be added to South Carolina's schedule.

Mansfield and Hazelhurst Boys Win Constitution's Badges in Spirited Meets

Eighteen more boys have won Constitution athletic badges, according to lists mailed The Constitution by President J. S. Stewart, of the State High School association.

Thirteen boys of the Mansfield, Ga. High school contested for the badges this November 25, ten of this number being successful.

Those winning the silver pins were John Adams, Charles Adams, Lamar Jackson and David Thurman.

Those winning the bronze badges were Leo Barber, Combie Daniel, Ewell Lunsford, Andrew Moody, Hill Patrick and Rabun Thompson.

At Hazelhurst, Ga., eight boys won badges in the contest held there December 11, four boys winning badges in each class.

Those winning silver badges were Lyle R. Girtman, Arley Dewitt Pinner, Ernest Newton and James Monroe Hinson, Jr.

Those winning bronze badges were Sylvanus Hinson, Charlie Hinson, Adrian Norman and John Milton.

CURLY BROWN LED SOUTHERN HURLERS IN THE PAST SEASON

According to the official averages just issued, Curly Brown, the little left-hander of the Birmingham Barons led the hurlers of the Southern league with an average of .760 from 21 games won and 7 lost.

His teammate, Hardgrove, was second with an average of .690, being tied with Bagby, of New Orleans, both winning 20 games and losing 9. Must Williams led the Cracker hurriers with an average of .650, standing fifth in the list of hurlers. He won 13 games and lost 7. Perryman stood eighth and Dent stood thirteenth.

Here are the twirlers who won 500 or more per cent of their games officially for the season.

TWO SPORTS PAID AT PENNSYLVANIA; WISCONSIN SAME

Philadelphia, December 15.—Football and basketball sports are the only sports that paid expenses at the University of Pennsylvania during the season ending September 1, according to the report of the treasurer, which today was in the hands of the Athletic association.

The net profits from gridiron contests were $43,000, while the basketball season showed a profit of a little more than $300.

Profit at Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., December 15.—Athletics at the University of Wisconsin showed a profit of $3,220 for the year ending July 30, 1914, according to a report submitted yesterday. Football and basketball were the only two self-supporting sports.

MISS DAN IS DECLARED WINNER OF THE DERBY

Montgomery, Ala., December 15.—Miss Dan, owned by W. B. Booley, of Oklahoma, and handled by Gude, was declared the winner of the derby stakes in the annual meeting of the Southern Field Trials club today at the course at Letohatchee. Rap's Ben, handled by Jones and owned by Victor Kabold, of Manitoba, Canada, won second prize, and Square Edgess, handled by Fishel and owned by James R. McMillan, of Lehi, Wis., was awarded third money.

Five braces in the all-age stakes went before the judges immediately after the closing of the derby. The second five braces will take to the course tomorrow, the field of entries being so large that it was found impossible to give them all a try-out the first day of the all-age stake running. The judges declined to comment upon what dogs may be eliminated from the first five braces that ran today and will not make their decision in this respect known until the other half of the entries are tried out.

GUNBOAT SMITH LOST IN A BOUT WITH COFFEY

New York, December 15.—Jim Coffey, the Dublin giant, outfought Gunboat Smith, of California, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Had Coffey been more aggressive he might have won decisively, but he did not extend himself. In only two rounds, the first and third, did Smith have the advantage. The bout was slow, men fighting awkwardly. Smith's showing in general was a disappointment. Coffey weighed 158 and Smith 180 pounds.

PETE KNEISEL LED SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Official Figures Just Announced—Jacobsen Real Leader—Welchance Topped the Crackers.

According to the official batting averages of the Southern league, just issued, Pete Kniseley, of Birmingham, led the league with an average of .853, compiled in 39 games before he left to join the Yankees.

But the real leader of the league is Baby Doll Jacobsen, who participated in 135 games and batted at a .718 clip for that number of contests.

Harry Welchance, the Crackers' all-time hitting captain, amassed an average of .314 in 100 games before he was forced to retire from active duty.

Jacobsen led the league in the number of runs scored for the season, denting the record of 188 hits, which was the most of any hitter. But Jacobsen did not touch the league records of 112 runs held by Tommy Long and 194 hits held by Harry Welchance, whose records were made in fewer games.

Dave Calahan led the base stealers with 84 purloins.

Here are the players who hit .365 or better for the season:

CAROLINA CASH GOES FOR OUTSIDE PRODUCTS

Columbia, S. C., December 15.—Commodities valued at $108,600,000 produced without the state are consumed annually in South Carolina, according to figures obtained from records of transportation companies and other authorities, and the state department of agriculture, Commissioner of Agriculture E. J. Watson pointed out today, this total, exclusive of $1,350,000 annually spent for mules and horses, exceeds the value of the state's cotton crop.

These statistics were obtained at the suggestion of the federal department of agriculture and were described by Commissioner Watson as being in accord with the recent report of that department.

AMERICAN XMAS GIFTS FOR WARRING COUNTRIES

Washington, December 15.—American Christmas gifts are going to warring countries of Europe on an unprecedented scale despite transportation interruptions.

Reports today to the postoffice department show the steamer St. Paul, sailing Saturday, carried three hundred thousand pounds of Christmas mail—the largest single ocean mail shipment ever made—which included two thousand sacks containing parcels for Great Britain and Ireland. By another ship a thousand sacks were dispatched to Germany and Austria, for which reasonable assurances of delivery have been received.

TRAINED NURSE ACCUSED OF KILLING MILLIONAIRE

San Antonio, Texas, December 15.—Miss Hedra, Burgenmeister, a trained nurse, was today indicted charged with the murder of Otto Koehler, millionaire resident of a local brewing association, on November 12, last.

Koehler was shot at Miss Burgenmeister's home late in the afternoon shortly after having reached the cottage and Miss Burgenmeister was found kneeling beside him, hysterical and bleeding from a deep gash in her left wrist. She said she fired in self-defense.

CAMPAIGN TO BRING SETTLERS TO SOUTH

Southern Commercial Congress Will Strive to Stimulate Desirable Immigration.

Washington, December 15.—A campaign to stimulate immigration to the south was launched here today by the Southern Commercial Congress. Enactment of uniform state land laws to facilitate acquisition of titles, establishment of a federal system of rural finance to aid colonization and organization of state immigration conferences are among the aims of the movement. Detailed plans were announced tonight by a special committee appointed last week for the immigration conference held here by the commercial congress.

The committee's announcement declares future development of the south will be measured largely in terms of an efficient industrial and agricultural immigration. Millions of acres of desirable land remain undeveloped in southern states, the statement says, and are available for "thousands of families in other states of the union, in Canada and abroad, who seek agricultural homes."

Stringent federal laws to protect immigrant settlers from "unscrupulous land sharks and real estate manipulators" are urged. Present efforts of the labor department to effect a proper distribution of labor to farms of the country are commended and a congress is asked to empower the department to extend the scope of that work.

Dr. Clarence J. Owens, managing director of the commercial congress, is a member of the committee directly in charge of the campaign. Other members are: Hugh McCall, Wilmington, N. C.; T. R. Preston, Chattanooga, Tenn.; R. M. Mixson, Winston, S. C.; M. V. Richards, Washington, D. C.; and LeRoy Hodges, Petersburg, Va.

GETS CHANGE OF VENUE.

Calhoun Black to Be Tried in Dougherty County.

Albany, Ga., December 15.—(Special.) Owing to intense feeling in Calhoun county against Ramus Williams, a negro charged with criminal assault on a white woman, Judge Eugene Cox, of the Albany circuit, deems it unsafe to attempt to try him at Morgan, Dougherty superior court held here next Monday to try the case.

Williams has been in jail here for some time, but the fact did not become known to the public until today.

WITNESS GIVEN YEAR; DEFENDANT IS FREE

Waycross, Ga., December 15.—(Special.)—According to a story reaching Waycross, following a session of superior court here, a negro named Alex McGuff, called in a murder case, got into more trouble than the defendant. McGuff was charged with the murder of Douglas Nix Taylor, a negro woman, to figures obtained from records of transportation companies and other authorities, and the state department of agriculture, Commissioner of Agriculture E. J. Watson pointed out today, this total, exclusive of $1,350,000 annually spent for mules and horses, exceeds the value of the state's cotton crop.

These statistics were obtained at the suggestion of the federal department of agriculture and were described by Commissioner Watson as being in accord with the recent report of that department.

Maternal Grandmother Beats Paternal Granddad For Orphans' Possession

Rome, Ga., December 15.—(Special.) Four young children, the daughters and son of the late Dr. W. L. Landrum, were yesterday awarded by Ordinary Harry Johnson, of Floyd county, to their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Julia Hampton, after a hot fight in the courts for their possession by Mrs. Hampton and R. W. Landrum, the children's paternal grandfather. The little ones were left orphans some months ago when their father was shot and their mother died eight days later from grief. They were then placed in charge of Mrs. Hampton. Dr. Landrum's father came before the ordinary in an endeavor to obtain custody of the children. The dead man left an estate valued at something over $10,000.

FIVE WHITE PRISONERS BREAK FROM FLOYD JAIL

Rome, Ga., December 15.—(Special.)—Five white prisoners made a successful get-away from the county jail. The escape was discovered by the jailer early in the morning, and an effort to find the men is being made, but so far, without result. The escaping prisoners were Luther Spain, Joseph Stafford, James Jones, C. C. Culberson and one unknown man. With the exception of Culberson, all of the men were U. S. prisoners, serving short terms for illicit distilling. Culberson was being held for trial, having been arrested last week.

In some ways, the men secured a steel saw, with which they sawed through the iron bars of the cells, gaining access to the corridor. They then put members of the jail staff to flight through a window of the hall. Quits and sheets on the cots were taken, and rough rope was used to descend to the jail yard. There were three other men in the same tier of cells, who refused to join them. Had the men who got away remained in jail two weeks longer they would have completed their sentence.

SICK MAN IS RESCUED IN WEST POINT FIRE

West Point, Ga., December 15.—(Special.)—The beautiful home of H. J. Hodnett was totally destroyed by fire this morning at 8 o'clock. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been from a defective flue, and the flames were fanned by a strong wind which was blowing at that hour, and which handicapped the efforts of the fire department.

The house was also occupied by the family of W. T. Edmond, who had been ill for some time, and had to be carried out of the building.

WATKINS RE-ELECTED MAYOR OF ELLIJAY

Ellijay, Ga., December 15.—(Special.) Mayor Claude Watkins and his entire ticket were re-elected in a hotly contested election yesterday by an increased majority over that of last year. Mayor Watkins, who is a democrat, defeated Rev. J. T. McHan, republican, who was supported by the Cox faction.

There have been more permanent improvements under Mayor Watkins' administration than under any administration in the history of the city, and the people of Ellijay showed their appreciation of his business administration by re-electing him by the largest majority any mayor of this city has received.

No Contest in Tifton.

Tifton, Ga., December 15.—(Special.) There will be no contest of Tifton's municipal election held December 2, although notice of contest was given by the managers of the anti-administration forces immediately after the count had been made.

NEGRO WHO SHOT FORT GAINES MAN KILLED BY POSSE

Fort Gaines, Ga., December 15.—Grover Neves, a young planter, was shot and seriously wounded last night near his home, Jim Pink, a negro, who is alleged to have shot Neves, refused to surrender and was shot and killed by the officers who had pursued him.

THOMASVILLE'S CHARITY FOR HOME AND ABROAD

Thomasville, Ga., December 15.—(Special.)—The first box of clothing and supplies sent from the Red Cross Aid society for the relief of the poor and suffering in Europe left here today, being forwarded to J. H. Schiff, in charge of the department in New York for sending supplies. In the box were more than the dundred garments, consisting of pajamas, convalescent robes, night robes, socks, scarfs, etc., together with $100, which is to be put in flour, canned milk, salt meat, etc. Another box will be sent later.

While Thomasville is sending aid to the sufferers in other countries, the poor at home have not been forgotten, and local charitable associations are busy getting the names of all those in need of any sort of help. They will be bountifully remembered during the holiday season.

Shot Boy Is Better.

West Point, Ga., December 15.—(Special.)—The latest news from the bedside of little Edward Cumbee, who was accidentally shot by his brother, Frank Lewis, on Monday, of last week, is that he is better, and friends are now hopeful of his recovery.

Rome Theater Leased.

Rome, Ga., December 15.—(Special.) Harry P. Diggs, of Macon, has leased the Rome theater.

Wallie Smith Will Play Third
And Captain the 1915 Crackers

By Dick Jensen.

Wallie Smith will play third base and captain the 1915 Crackers. This announcement, made unofficially, with, when officially verified, bring joy to the heart of every baseball fan in Atlanta. There never was a more popular or hard-working ball player on the Atlanta team than this same Wallie.

"Wallie," as he was endearingly dubbed by the sport writers and public alike, because of his vicious line driven for extra bases in the pinches, was given credit for much of the success of the 1913 pennant winners.

With Wallie back on the job, the Crackers will have something that they lacked in 1914, a clean-up hitter who can deliver the punch when it is needed. More games were lost in 1914 through the lack of a blow against the outer defenses than the bases reaching from any other cause.

Will Be Captain.

With Wallie's return the question of the captaincy of the Crackers will also be settled. He will no doubt be given this honor as extra inducement for his return. It is understood that the captaincy of a club in this league carries with it $25 extra monthly stipend.

Smith's return to the Crackers would be the one big boost that Manager Billy could give his 1915 pennant chances. No other acquisition could please the Cracker fans more.

In addition to adding untold offensive strength to the club the defensive strength would be greatly enhanced and the morale of the club as a whole bolstered.

Wallie is one of the kind of ball-players whose presence in the clean-up position would add confidence to the efforts of the man preceding him in the batting order, an inspiration to get on with the drive conviction, that "Wallie" will "bring him home."

As a fielder, it has been our pleasure to see many a third baseman in action, and the work of four men stand out above the many others that we have watched work the hot corner. Scotty Walker, Wallie Smith, Jimmy Collins and Bill Bradley is the quartet to whom we have reference.

Scotty was the king of them all in fielding every kind of a chance. But on hard hit drives right at a third-sacker, and they come harder to that section of the diamond than any other. Wallie handled them with greater ease than any other third-sacker that ever performed.

Great Infield.

Smith's return will make the Crackers' infield the best in the Southern league. With Wallie on third, Bill Bradley at short and Ebel at first, Manager Smith's worry over his infield will be at once eased. These three men will make any man that is secured to play the infield look great.

It is more than likely that either Clyde Wares, who is now with the Browns and who played second for the Montgomery Billikens while in this league, or Edson Hemingway, who played third for the Vols last season, will be the other infielder.

If Wares is secured, Wallie will play third. If Hemingway is the man, Wallop will go to second. Either of these combinations will give the Crackers the best infield that Atlanta has ever had.

If Tommy Long could be secured from Griffith for the outfield again, with Kirchner already on the job, the Crackers will have a nucleus for a wonderful machine offensively and defensively.

With these acquisitions, a good first string catcher, a couple of top-notch pitchers and one outfielder of merit in all that will be needed to make the Crackers favorites in the 1915 pennant race from the jump.

Presuming that Outfielder Walker, for whom Billy is angling, can be secured from the Browns, to play the middle meadow vacated by the illness of Harry Welchone, the Crackers' batting order at the start of the 1915 season would read Long, 1st; Bland, 2nd; Walker, 3rd; Smith, 4th; Wares, 5th; Ebel, 6th; Kirchner, 7th; catcher, pitcher.

Other Southern league hurlers, take notice!

A. A. CLUB WILL PLAY
ALL-STARS SATURDAY

The Atlanta Athletic club's basketball quintet will tackle an all-star aggregation on the local court Saturday night. This was announced Tuesday. The exact personnel of the all-star team is not yet known, but it will be composed from the various teams in the city league.

It is expected that the "Stars" will put up a hot fight for the game, and will have the best players in the league on the team.

The local club is in good shape after last Saturday night's game, and express confidence of winning the fray easily.

The lineup of the two teams has not yet been announced, but will, in all probability, be announced some time today.

TWO VETERANS GO.

Schaefer and Wiltse Unconditionally Released by Clubs.

Official press dispatches carry the stories of the release of two veteran players unconditionally.

George Wiltse, the veteran southpaw, has been released by the New York Giants, and Germany Schaefer, the famous comedian, has been traded to Griffith.

Feds Get Austin.

Pittsburg, Pa., December 15.—E. T. Oakes, manager of the Pittsburg Pirates, announced today he had signed James Austin, third baseman of the St. Louis Americans.

SECOND Y. M. C. A. MEET
TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Fifty-Two Athletes Entered.
Public Cordially Invited, Ladies Especially.

With exactly 52 entries, the second athletic meet of the season will be held tonight at the local Y. M. C. A. the first event commencing promptly at 8 o'clock. The meet promises to be a huge success from the start, as all of the athletes that have entered have been practicing hard in anticipation of the meet for some time. The meet will not be under the new classified basis, but will be an open one, in which all members compete in the same class.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meet, and the Director of Physical Instruction, Franklin, hopes to have a large crowd on hand to witness the festivities. Bleachers in the large gym have been erected and seats will be provided for all who come. Ladies are especially invited.

M. P. Hamilton, who won the Thanksgiving meet, is entered in nearly all of the events to be held. Several other stars of the first meet will also be in this one, and promise to give the champion a hard battle for first honors.

The events to be held in the order named, with the entries in each event are as follows:

The order of events is as follows: Thirty-yard low hurdle, 100-yard dash, bar vault, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard dash, 1760-yard dash, 3520-yard dash, 7040-yard dash, 14080-yard dash,
